The Legend Belongs to Lakewood

The "Early Settler", designed by the noted sculptor, Viktor Schreckengost, graces the new auditorium and school with its abstract beauty. It unites the people of Lakewood, reminding them of the legendary heritage that is theirs to be proud of and cherish.

The "Early Settler", symbolizing the great heritage of the Western Reserve, dominates Lakewood's prided auditorium

A black and white photograph of a large, two-story brick building with a gabled roof. The building features several tall, narrow windows on the left side and a group of three windows on the right side. The entrance is located on the right side, featuring a small porch with steps leading up to it. Bare tree branches are visible in the foreground and background, suggesting a winter or early spring setting.

Moved from its original site to Lakewood Park, the Old Stone House stands open to visitors as an historical museum

Many people have played a part in the Lakewood legend. The pioneers laid a firm foundation for others to build upon. Standing as a shrine to those early settlers, Lakewood's first stone house, built in 1838, has been restored and moved to Lakewood Park. The oldest standing school, built in 1879, now serves as the Board of Education annex.

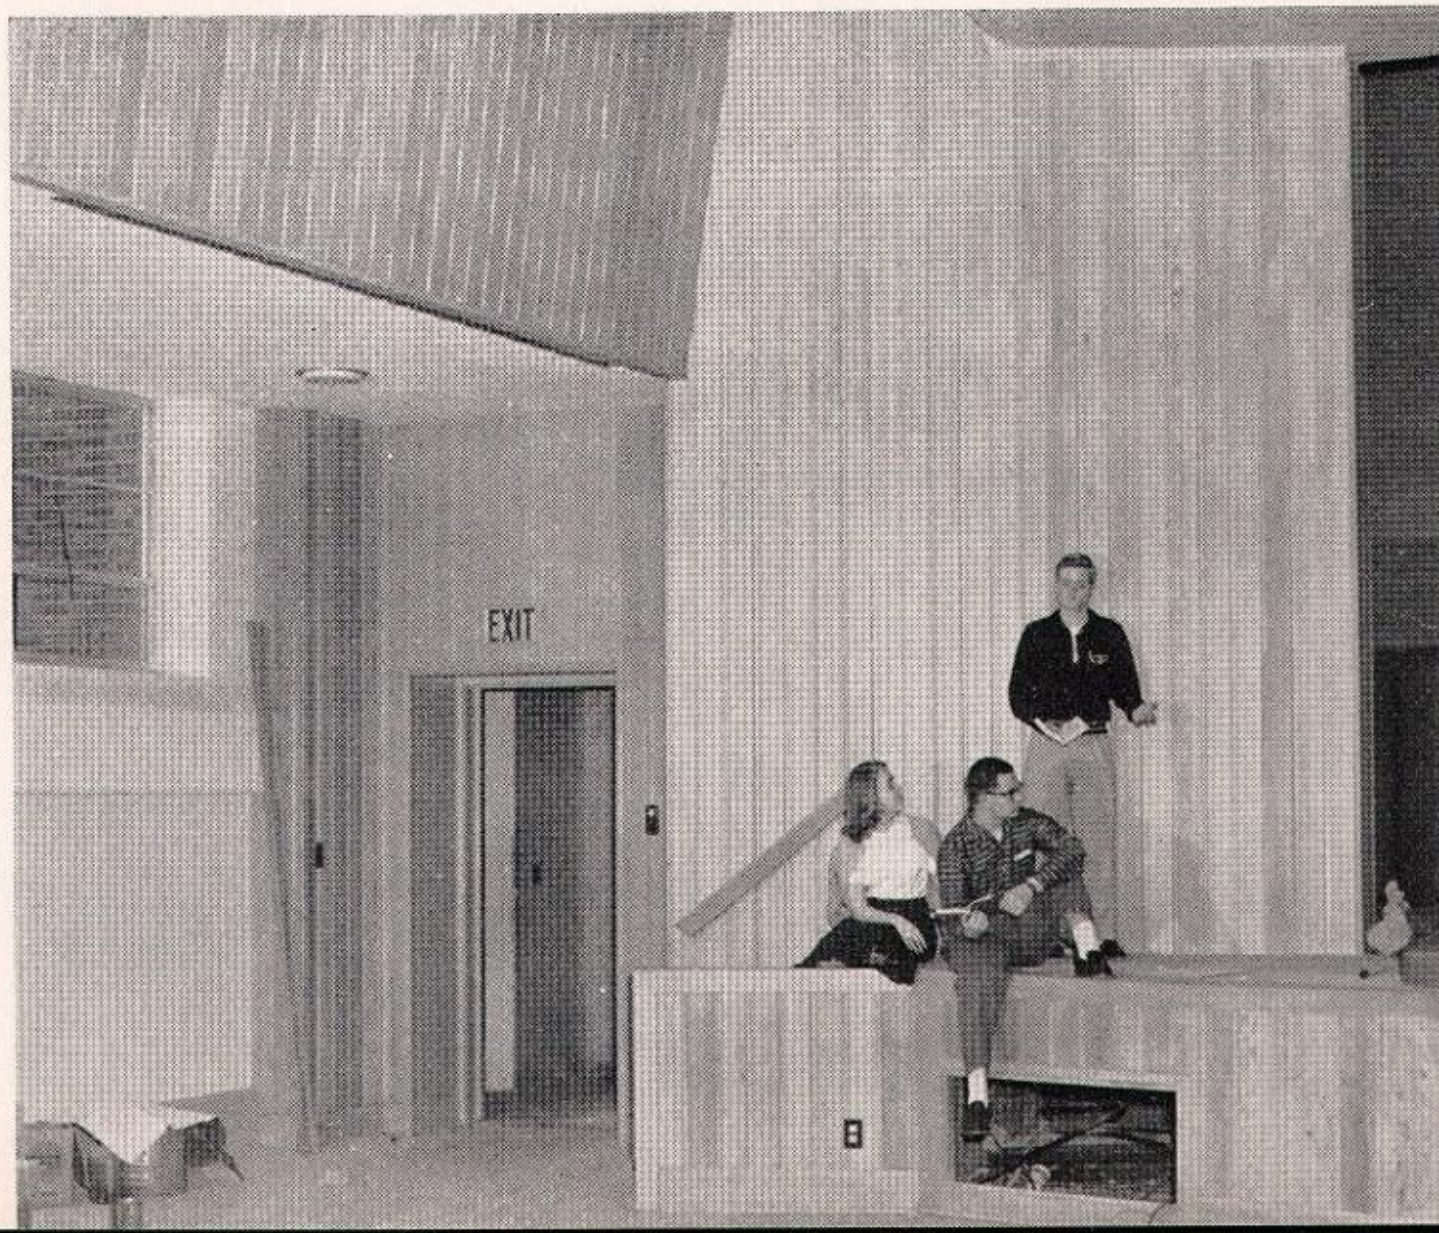

Classrooms in East Rockport Central School are now used as administrative offices

The homelike environment of the L-Room makes it the hub of student social activity

The future of a community lies in its public schools; the necessity of education for all cannot be stressed too strongly. Such was the philosophy of Lakewood's founders, men who built schools almost as soon as they built homes. Firm in their convictions and willing to work to make their dreams of obtaining superior schools come true, those men laid the cornerstone of the legend of Lakewood's progress in education.

Seating almost 2000, the new Lakewood Civic Auditorium houses the first all-school assemblies in the school's history

Reality Has Surpassed All Dreams

The pioneers hoped that their simple schools might grow with the community, evolving someday into schools to satisfy the different needs and wants of all students. Even so, they would be amazed to see Lakewood High today; for the modern descendant of their one-room schoolhouses offers educational opportunities and recreational facilities to surpass even their fondest dreams.

Unique Student Council campaign posters stem from slogans like "Hagerson Won't Gamble"

Lakewood Spirit is a Legend in Itself

When the early settler chose Lakewood to be his new home, he was rewarded by the spirit of the community as his neighbors joined to help him raise the house or hold a husking bee. Today that same spirit is found in the mighty cheer that rises from the Lakewood stands; or in quiet ways, such as students staying after regular school hours to perform extra services or give needed aid.

Lunch period offers excellent chance for students to exchange the latest gossip in the student-supervised cafeteria

Enthusiastic Students Keep the Legend Alive

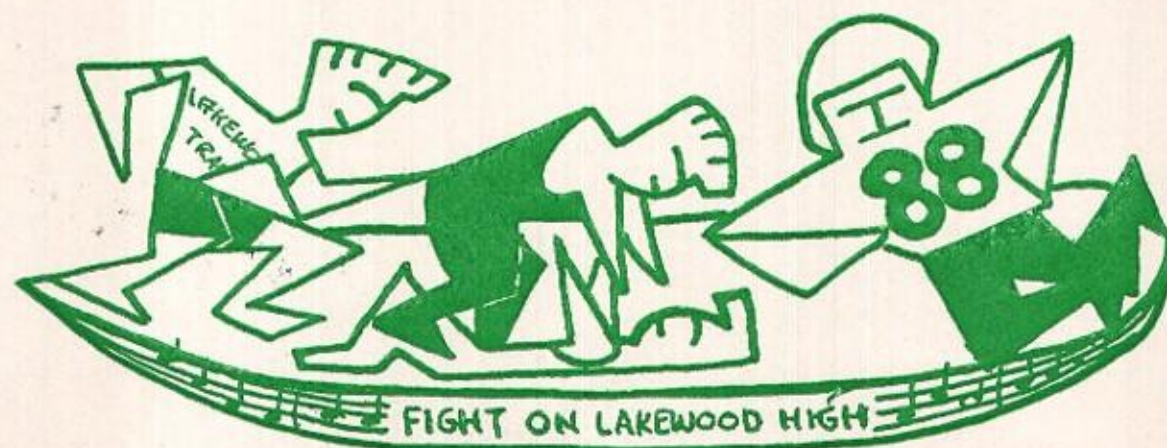

The heart of the school is its people. They turn the hollow buildings into something alive, something almost human. Rarely do they let it rest. From the arrival of dawn patrol before daybreak to the last cheers of a night game, the school hums with activity as students, through their everyday life, maintain and contribute to the legend.

During charity drives, boys shoot for a "basket" to achieve homeroom quota

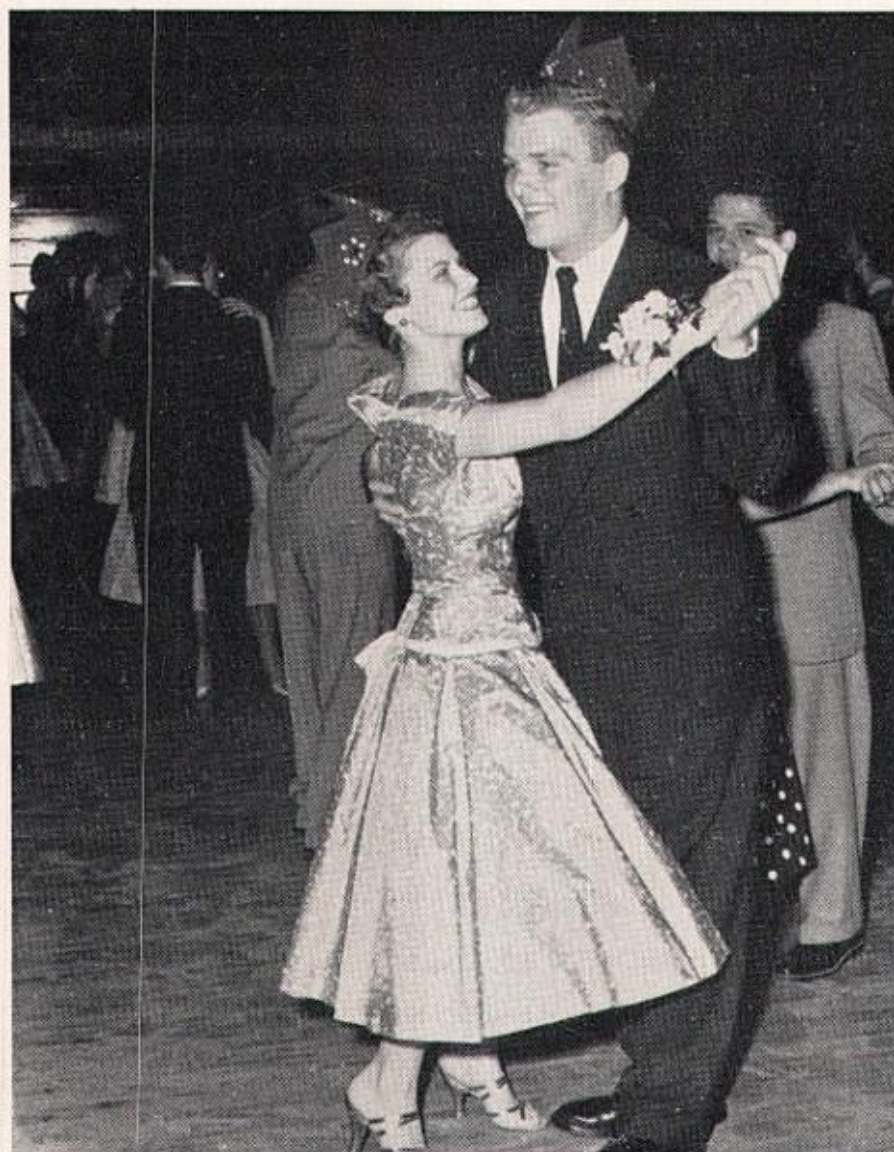

Adding to the spirited atmosphere of the frequent pep rallies, the pep band rings out with the Lakewood fight song

The Social Scene Highlights the Legend

Gone are the quilting parties, square dances, and quiet evenings by the fire which occupied the settlers' leisure hours. In their place, Lakewood students enjoy a well-rounded social program of club meetings, all-school parties, dances, and theater productions to add zest to the everyday job of learning. These events and activities all combine to make Lakewood's social scene so complete.

The Lakewood Legend

of SCHOLARSHIP

The high standards of Lakewood High began when the pioneers built their first school. Each year since, accomplishments of graduates have built a legend of achievement.

Every Lakewood graduate has a share in this proud heritage. Daily advances in knowledge are encouraged by modern facilities, friendly teachers, and a vast selection of courses.

Models Metcalf and Heiser provide inspiration for students learning the art of writing ads

English Program Molds High Scholastic Character

The English department strives to aid the student in perfecting English fundamentals necessary in gaining sufficient knowledge in all scholastic fields. The sophomore in English 3 and 4 reviews grammar, practices composition, and "tastes" English and American literature. English 5 emphasizes basic English grammar along with correct form and style in writing. English 7 continues the program of improving communication skills by studying advanced grammar, preparing a research paper, and evaluating Atlantic Monthly articles. In advanced American and English literature, students learn to appreciate the classics. Students interested in interviewing and news writing may study journalism. Public speaking is offered for all who wish to overcome speech difficulties and to gain self-confidence. Dramatics instructs students in theater art.

Students in Problems II study complex Ohio government

The social studies program provides students with historical backgrounds necessary to understand the world, the United States, and the individual today. An elective world history course presents a cultural view of people from primitive man to our modern-day society. A required American history course grounds students in our American way of life and includes the study of our heritage from the colonial era to the period following World War II. Problems of Living I guides students to intelligent ways of meeting personal, family, and economic problems. The study of governments at home and abroad in Problems II develops appreciation for our democratic principles—their importance to the world.

Social Studies Emphasizes Democratic Principles

World history students consider Greek influence on our democratic system

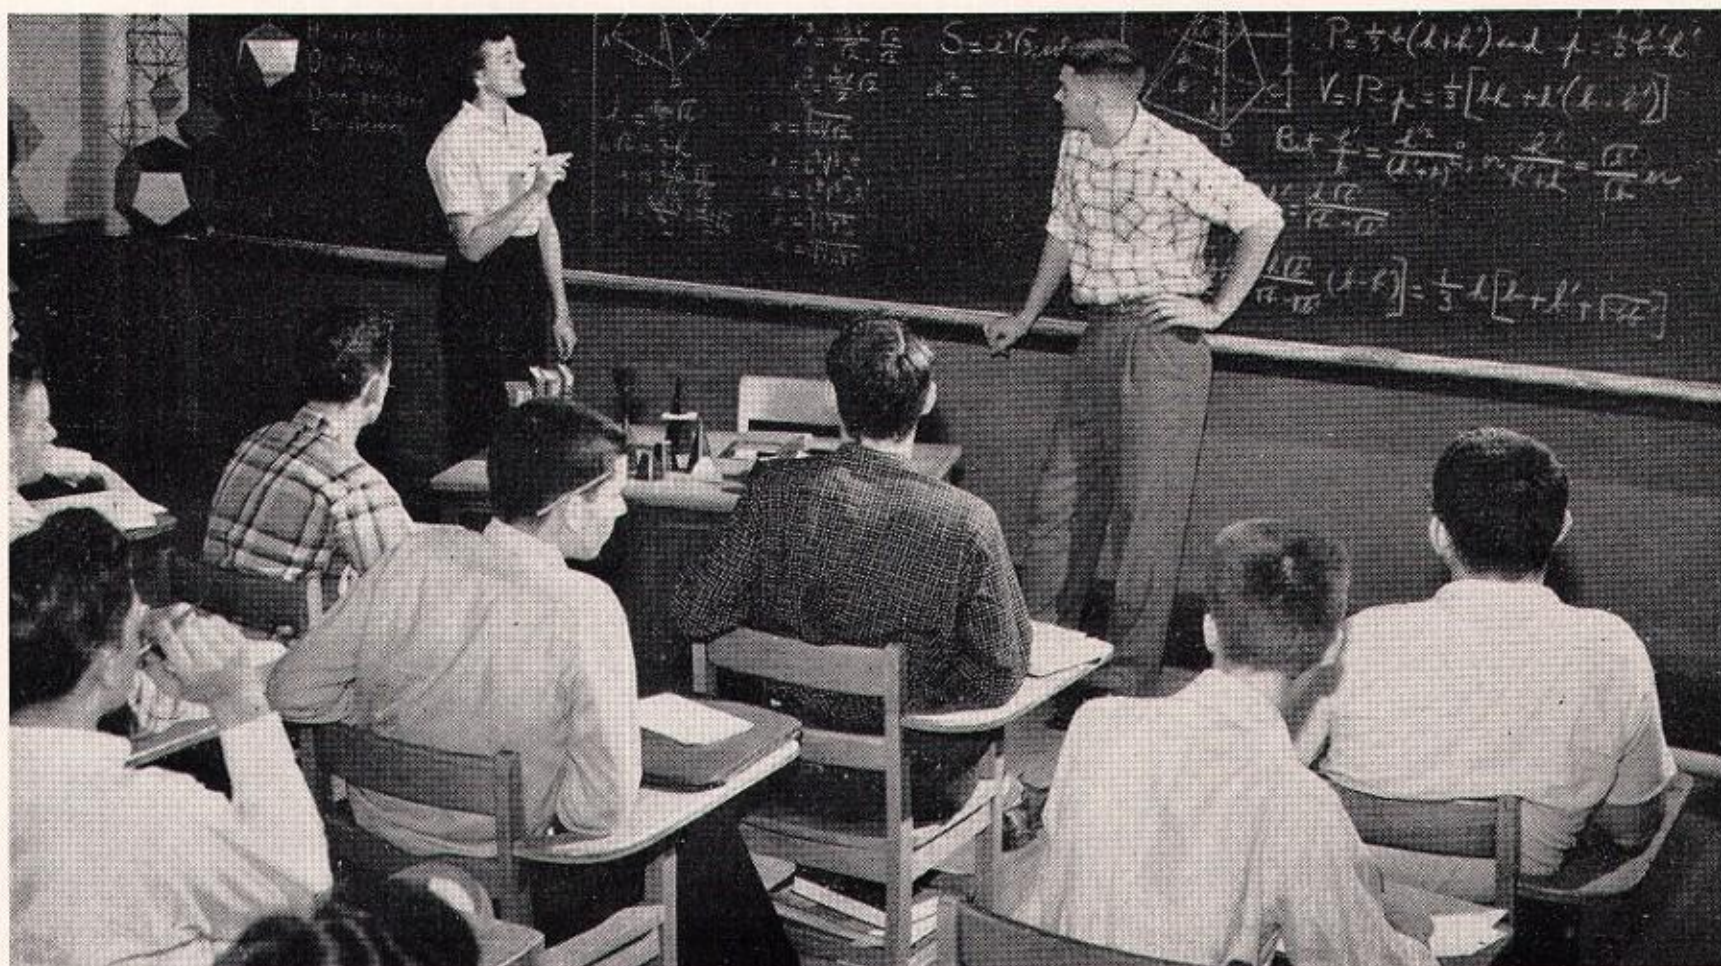

Mathematics Develops Use of Logic to Attain Truths

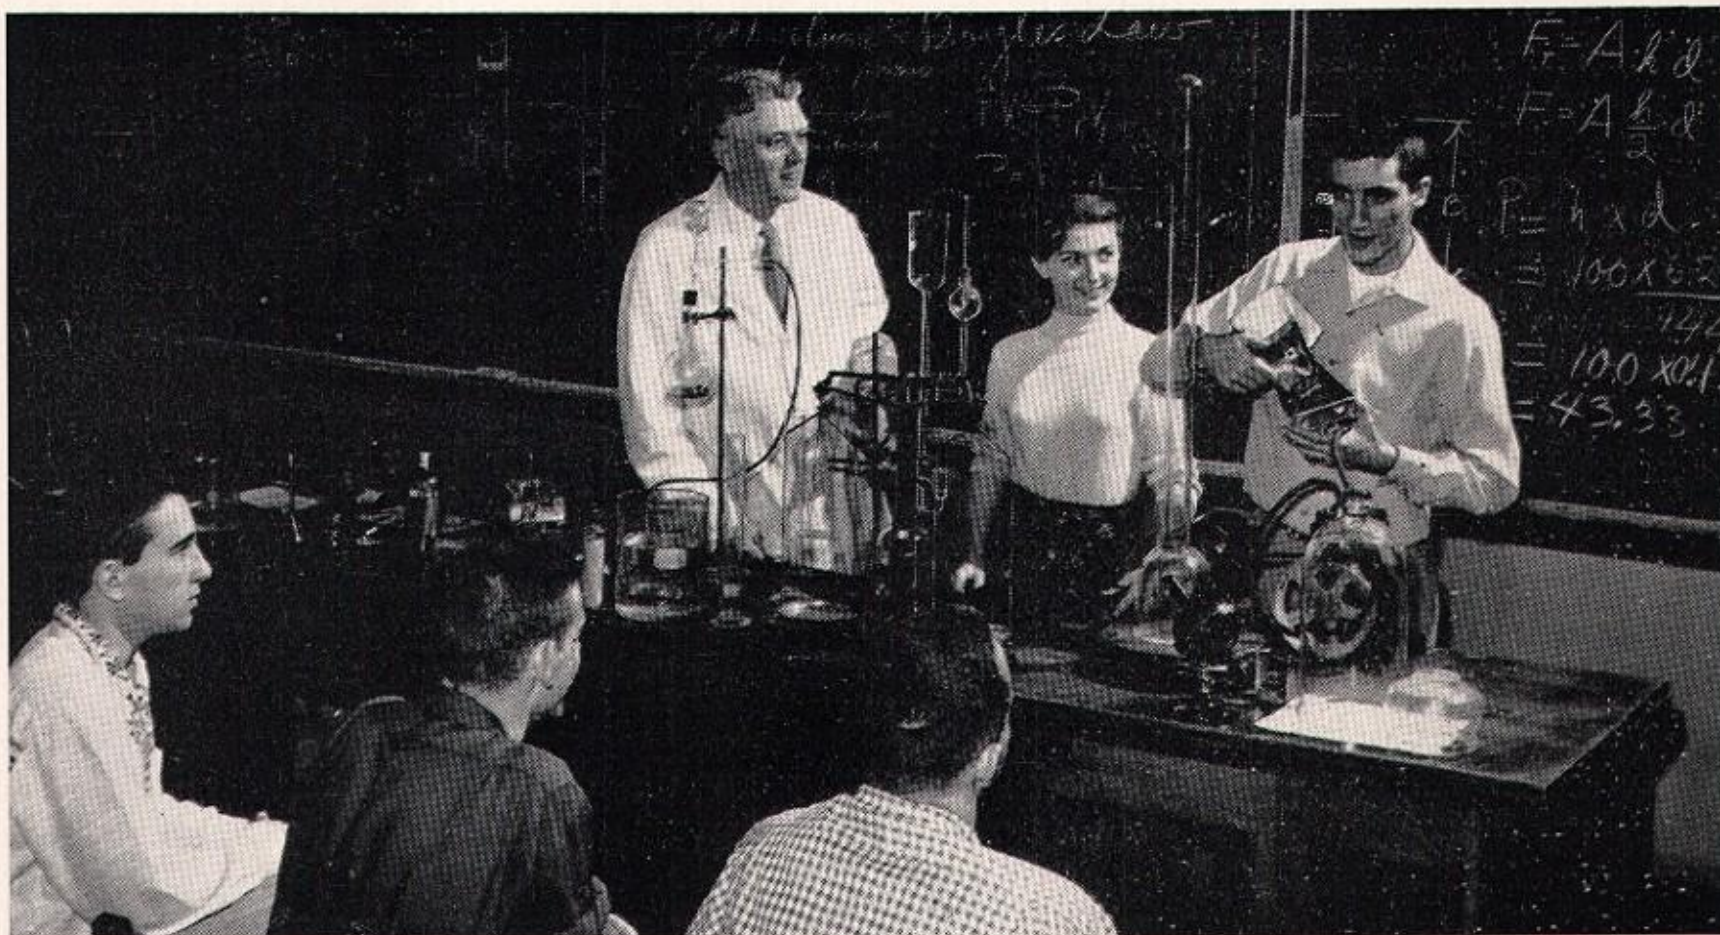

Instructive, decorative mobile shows basic forms

Teaching students to solve problems through logical thinking is the aim of the mathematics department. Plane geometry creates an appreciation of geometric forms in nature and industry. Algebra 3 teaches the use and value of math in business and scientific fields. Mastering correct descriptive words for class discussion is a main objective of solid geometry. Advanced algebra develops abstract thinking ability and arouses curiosity as to the power and scope of math. Trigonometry aids students in developing independence in study and comprehending material presented on a printed page.

Plenty of chalk and blackboard space fill these advanced math students' requirements as they solve complex equations

Science Students Base Conclusions on Observation

The crushed gallon can illustrates the force of air pressure on an object when the air is pumped from within it

Chemistry experiments aid in unraveling scientific mysteries

The science department offers a study course designed to acquaint students with the structure of our world—organic and inorganic. Weekly laboratory periods allow time for the application of classroom knowledge by performing experiments requiring adeptness in handling scientific equipment. Through the study of biology, physiology, horticulture, aeronautics, chemistry, and physics, attitudes of accurate observation, cautious judgment, and appreciative understanding of nature will develop.

First-year German students use books, blackboards, brains to good advantage as they master the declension of nouns

Languages Stimulate Respect for Foreign Cultures

These foreign symbols represent languages studied at LHS

To expand student appreciation of foreign people, customs, and language, the language department offers Latin, German, French, and Spanish. After fundamental grammar and vocabulary are mastered in the first year, advanced students put their "tongues" to work by reading novels and short stories written in the studied language. Comprehension is further increased through movies, reports, projects, and native "song fests".

Products of art class add student touch to L-Room decor

Works of art created in senior classes can be produced only after hard work and effort in Art 1, 2, 3, and 4. A beginning art student is introduced to basic areas of art. By the time he has reached Art 3 and 4, he is ready to work in temperas, pen and ink, and scratchboard. Commercial aspects of art are stressed in the second year course through lettering and advertising projects. Senior graphics students learn to use the more advanced forms of art, such as oils. Leatherwork, copper enameling, jewelry making, ceramics are some of the projects completed in crafts classes. Art appreciation concludes the art student's major here.

Music, Art Encourage Student Creative Expression

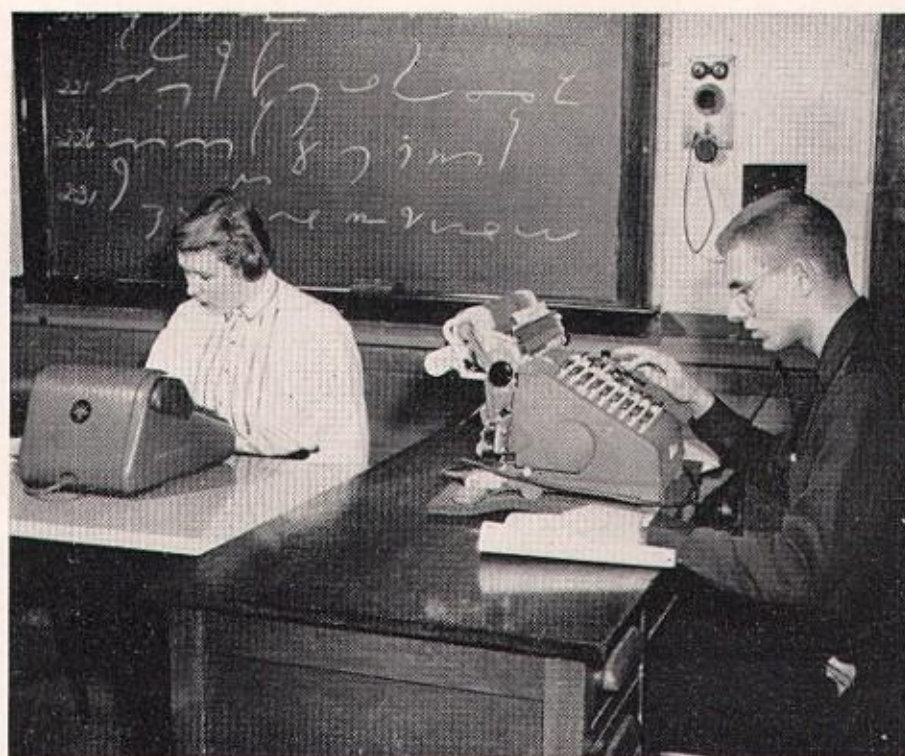

Recordings familiarize music appreciation students with themes from the classics

Everyone interested in singing has a chance to participate in one of the many glee clubs and choirs at Lakewood High. Music appreciation students learn the history of music and review orchestra instruments.

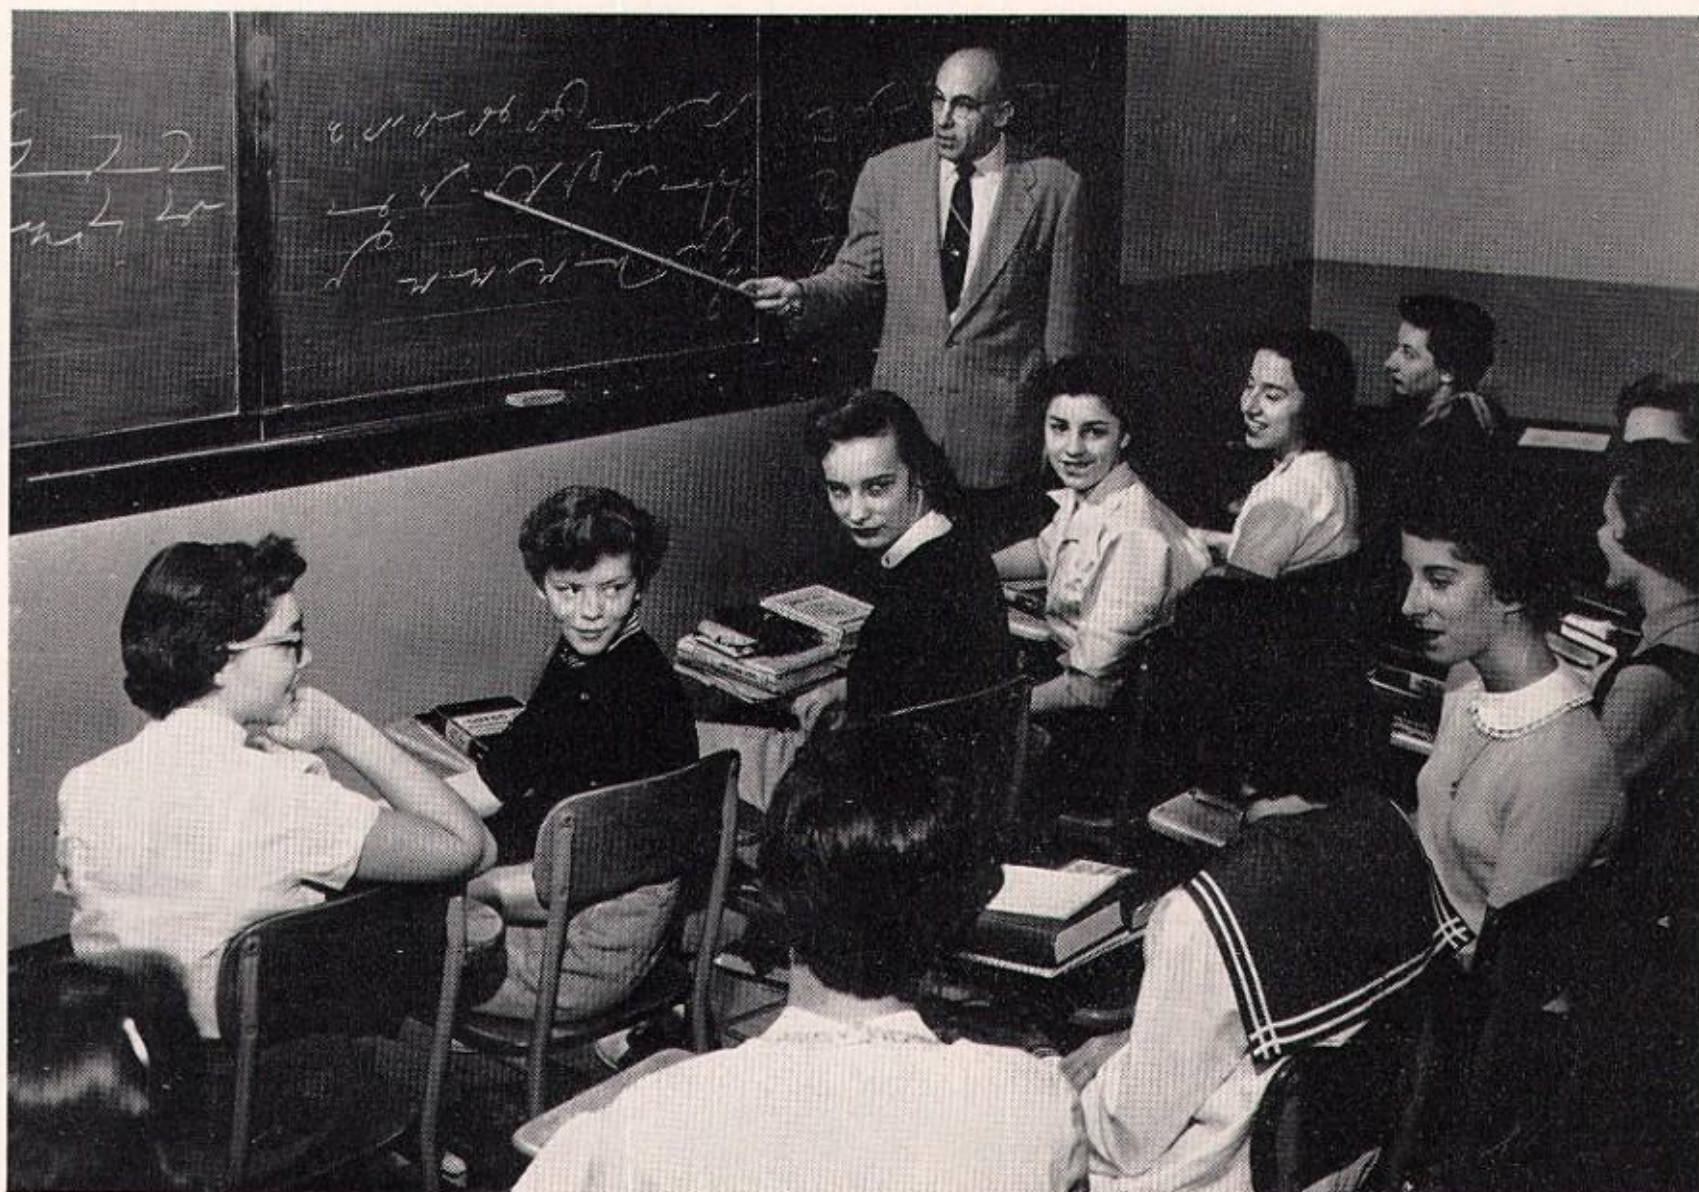

Business Class Prepares Students for Future Careers

Students planning business careers find a wide selection of studies to further their ambitions. Bookkeeping 1 and 2 cover basic bookkeeping principles for personal and business uses. Accounting 1 and 2, Shorthand 1 and 2, Typing 1 and 2, and Business Organization are necessary for a business major. For those interested in taking more advanced subjects, Typing 3 and 4, Shorthand 3 and 4, Business Machines, Salesmanship and Advertising, Business Law, Retail Selling, Economic Geography are offered.

Business students become adept with office machines

Future secretaries and stenographers will find many opportunities to use knowledge of shorthand in business world

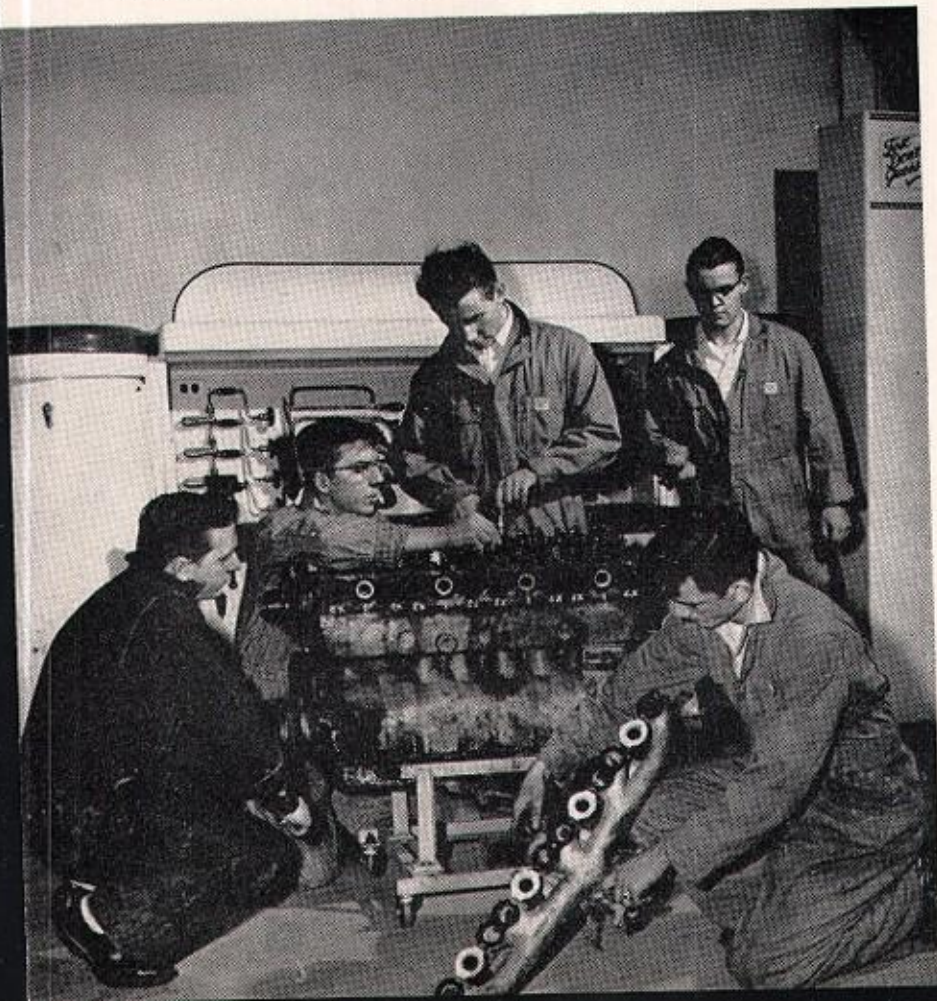

Home designers of tomorrow get their basic training for future architecture studies in high school drafting classes

Technical Courses Promote Learning by Doing

Re-assembling manifold gives boys practical experience

Boys seeking vocations in industrial and technical fields acquire essential skills through the technical department's course of study. Electricity, foundry, patternmaking, auto mechanics, machine shop, printing, and woodworking courses instruct them in useful techniques. In shop mathematics students solve common technical problems using arithmetic principles. Drafting teaches ways to reduce production problems through design, eliminating time and material wastes. Driving instruction trains students in safe, correct and courteous driving methods.

Future Homemakers Gain Experience in Home Ec

Aspiring homemakers, dietitians, and fashion designers receive training for their respective careers through home economics courses. In general home economics they study the home care of children and the sick. Home management students discover wise ways to select, finance, and furnish a home. Through the handicrafts program an appreciation for hand workmanship develops. Foods students gain an understanding of nutrition by planning, preparing, and serving meals. Clothing courses teach the girls to select fabrics, use and design patterns, sew, tailor.

Optimistic handicraft students weave tablecloths for their hope chests

Prospective homemakers prepare for the future by turning lifeless patterns and yard goods into flattering fashions

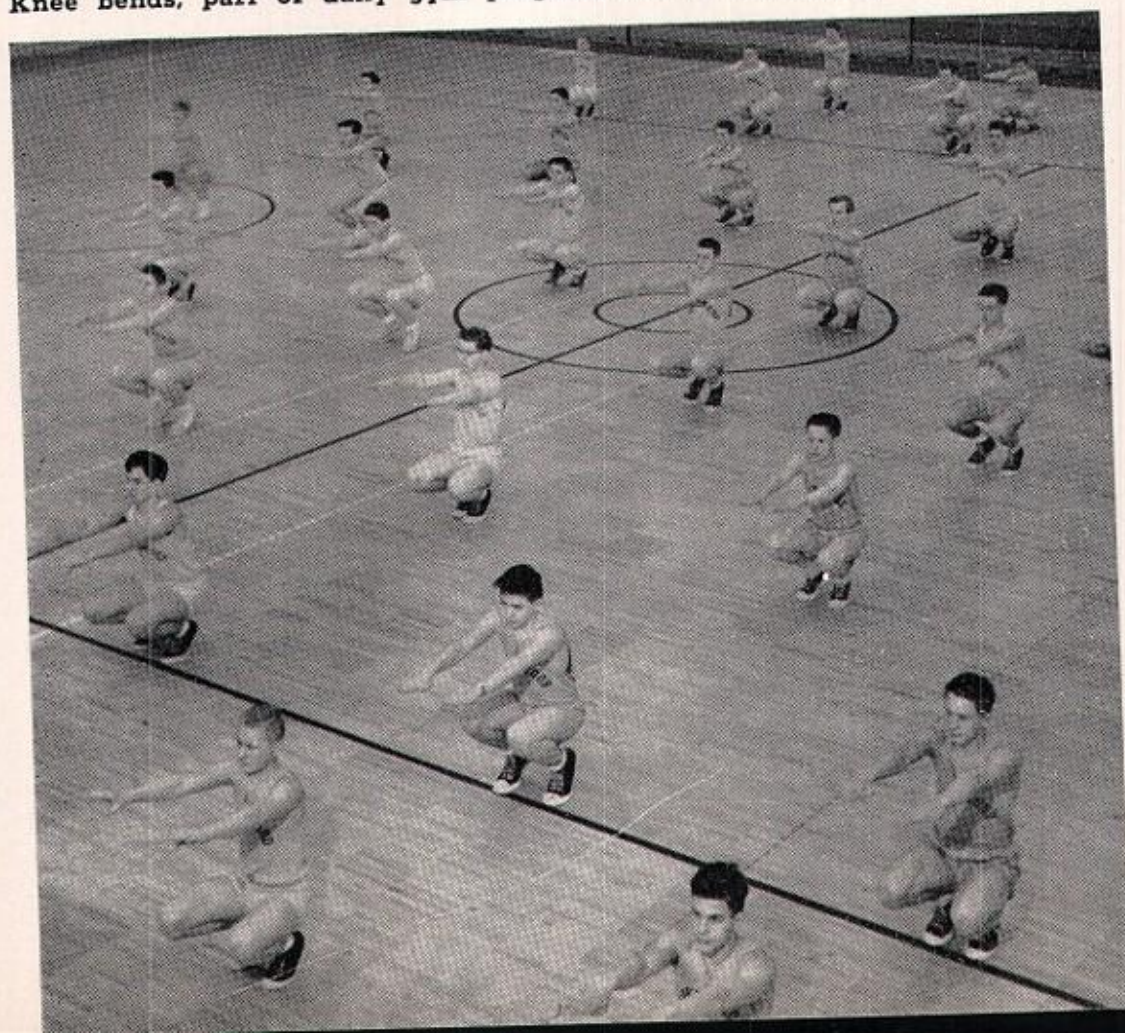

Physical Education Classes Condition Minds, Bodies

To promote good health and sportsmanship is the purpose of the girls' physical education program. Ping-pong, tennis, badminton, basketball, swimming, and archery are among the many sports offered in daily gym classes. Correct posture and graceful movement is taught to all students in special classes. The health student becomes better acquainted with hygiene problems of the home and community during a six-week period of the sophomore year. Through these activities, the physical education department strives to build strong, healthy bodies.

Acquiring graceful ways to sit and stand give girls poise and assurance

Knee bends, part of daily gym program, aid in developing strength, skill

The boys' physical education department works toward building character, health, and athletic skills through a well-rounded sports program. Calisthenics, swimming, rope climbing, apparatus work, volleyball, and tennis are among the many sports offered boys in daily gym classes. Each boy is required to take Health Education during his sophomore year. The aim of Health is to emphasize not only health practice, but also home life and social behavior.

New Library Features Functional Beauty and Space

Well-stocked library has a book for every type reader

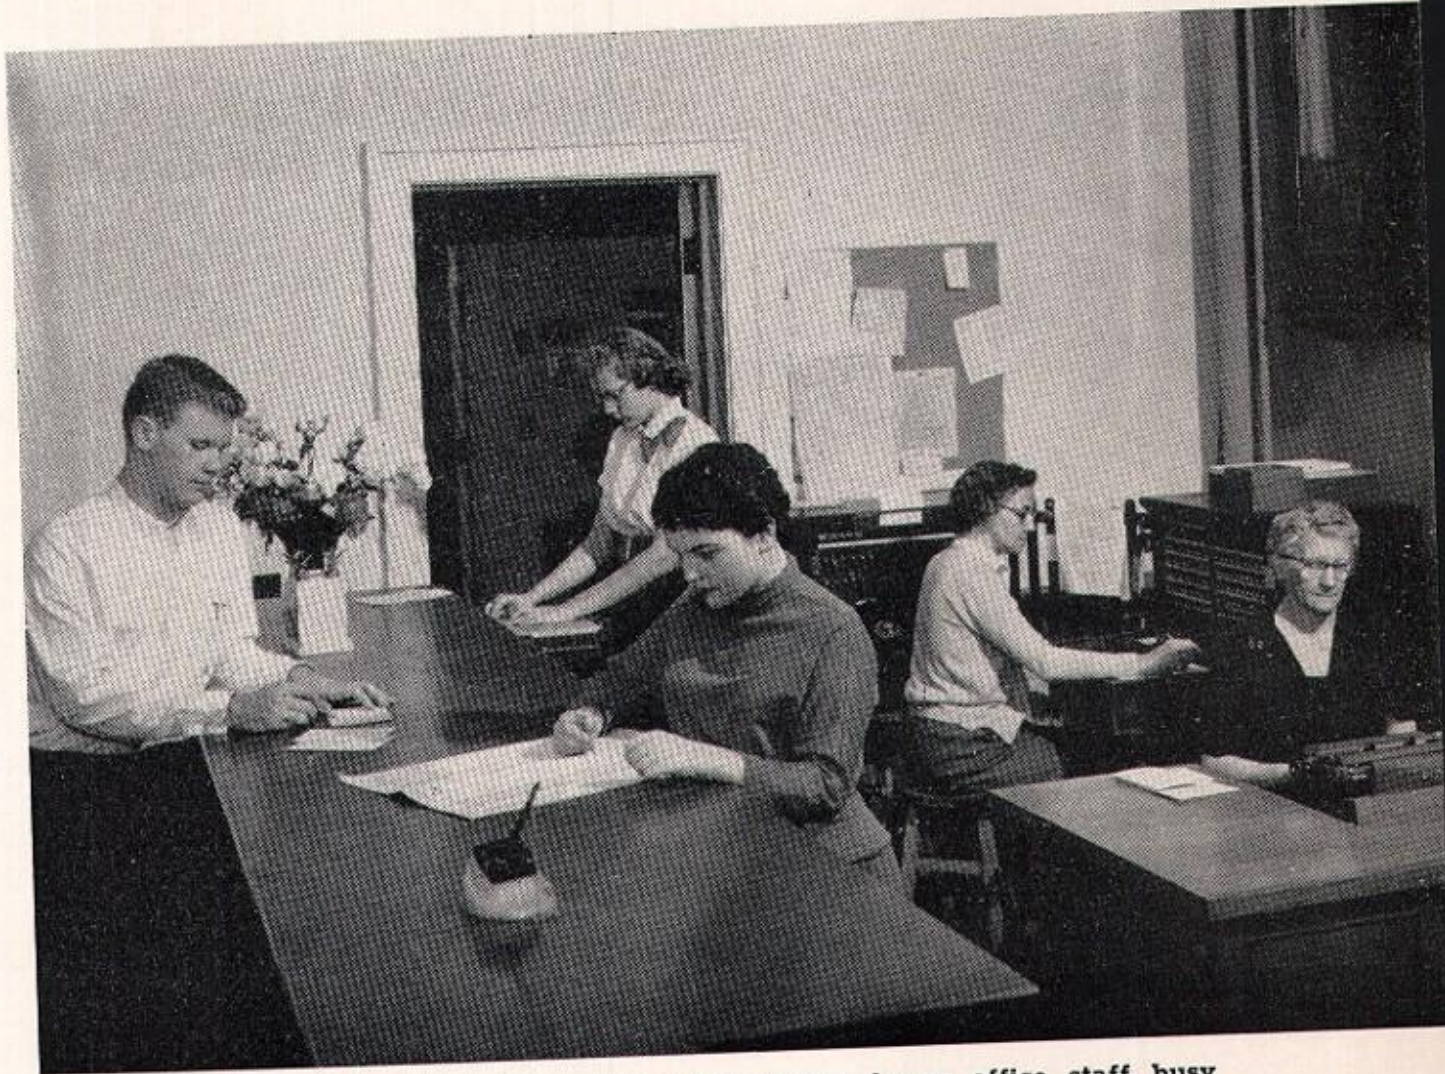

One of the busiest rooms in the school is the library which caters to about 4,000 students' visits a month. The 11,000 books in the library are in almost constant use. Besides containing the usual mixture of fiction, non-fiction, and reference books the library gets about 80 magazines, ranging from Life to American Home, and six newspapers. The new library, having two conference rooms plus the library proper, makes it possible for more to enjoy the library.

Dreaming of the day when the new library will be opened, Miss Findley and assistants look over architect's drawings

Office, L-Room, Focal Points of School Activities

The office staff performs innumerable services for the faculty and students. They keep students' records on file, deliver messages, and handle the general school business.

Answering telephone, checking data, giving information keeps office staff busy

A busy schedule of parties and club meetings keeps L-Room staff "on their toes"

As center of the school's social activities, the L-Room is in almost constant use. Conferences, date dances, club meetings, and parties are among the many events that are held there.

Students' aches and pains keep hospital assistants constantly on the go

In the spacious, well-equipped Health Center, student staff members daily gain experience for careers in medicine. They assist the school nurse and doctor in administering medical aid to students in case of illness or accidents. They also help give routine and special physical examinations necessary in maintaining a healthy student body.

Cafeteria, Hospital Promote Student Well-Being

Tasty dishes prepared by friendly cafeteria cooks satisfy hunger pangs

Under the direction of Miss Natalie Betts, cafeteria manager, a corps of trained cooks prepare and serve nutritious luncheons for approximately 900 to 1,000 persons daily.

Besides keeping financial records of all school and club activities, the Bookroom provides students with necessary books and supplies for the classroom. Fee cards, bus passes, and tickets for all affairs are also sold there. To enable students to shop conveniently, the Bookroom is open daily between classes and before and after school.

Students' demand for supplies, tickets, and fee cards keeps staff busy

Bookroom Staff, Custodians Always Ready to Aid

The well-kept appearance and facilities of our school can be credited to a well-manned staff of custodians. In order to keep the campus and buildings clean, and the equipment in good working order, crews work "round-the-clock". As rush jobs arise, they respond quickly to repair such items as leaks, breaks, blown fuses, and improperly heated rooms.

The Lakewood Legend

of ITS PEOPLE

Lakewood is a friendly community built from the hopes and dreams of a very special people—the founders and developers of a legend of community enterprise. Within Lakewood High School, this spirit inspires industry and friendships as students and teachers pursue common interests together. This fellowship creates the fine citizens for the community of tomorrow.

Lakewood Board of Education, School Executives

With interests of the community at heart, the Lakewood Board of Education guides the destinies of the schools.

Seated: Theodore Brooks, Mrs. H. D. Abernethy, George Rich. Standing: Arlo Graber, Charles Geiger, Omar Ranney

Lakewood Board of Education

Elected by the citizens of the community, members of the Lakewood Board of Education strive to provide Lakewood schools with the best in buildings, equipment, and personnel. Officers chosen by the group this year are Mr. Theodore Brooks, president, and Mr. Arlo Graber, vice-president. The newest member is Mr. Charles Geiger. Continuing members are Mrs. H. D. Abernethy, Mr. Omar Ranney, and Mr. George Rich. The Board meets every second Thursday of each month to determine the policies of Lakewood schools.

Provide Excellent Opportunities for Lakewood Youth

Superintendent
William B. Edwards

Dr. William B. Edwards received an enthusiastic welcome from the students and community as he undertook his new job as superintendent of schools. Dr. Edwards was formerly school superintendent at South Lyndhurst, Ohio, and Peoria, Illinois.

Assistant Superintendent
Samuel S. Dickey

Mr. Samuel S. Dickey, nationally prominent school business administrator, supervises the maintenance and expenditures of the Lakewood schools. During the recent building expansion at the high school, he has coped with many intricate management problems.

Friendly Leadership Gives Inspiration to Students

Assistant Principal
Robert L. Meeks

Mr. Robert L. Meeks, assistant principal, each semester makes the master schedule from which each student's program is planned. As dean of boys, he counsels those in need of guidance. Mr. Meeks shows a friendly interest in each student.

Dean of Girls
Lucy Helen Kimball

Miss Lucy Helen Kimball, dean of girls and adviser of the Student Council, is constantly working for greater student participation in school government. Miss Kimball oversees Council activities that involve the entire student body, such as the "Laff Musicale", tax stamp drives, and the annual magazine drive.

Principal
Mahlon A. Povenmire

Recognized as a leader in education, Mr. Mahlon A. Povenmire has recently been appointed Coordinator of Principals' Discussion Groups in Northeastern Ohio. Each day his full schedule of activities and contacts advances the interests of the school and keeps educational goals high.

Honor Society Membership Is Reward for Excellence

Honor Society officers Ricker, Greene, Brown, Fisher meet informally to survey scrapbook of previous years

To recognize achievement in scholarship, leadership, character, and service is the purpose of National Honor Society. One of the most significant duties of the individual members is to tutor other students needing assistance with their studies. The organization always holds a Saturday morning "party" to shine and arrange the school's many trophies. The following is the oath recited by Honor Society students at their induction: "I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of this society to which I have been elected, striving in every way, by word and by deed, to make its ideals the ideals of my school and of my life."

The Lakewood Legend

of ATHLETICS

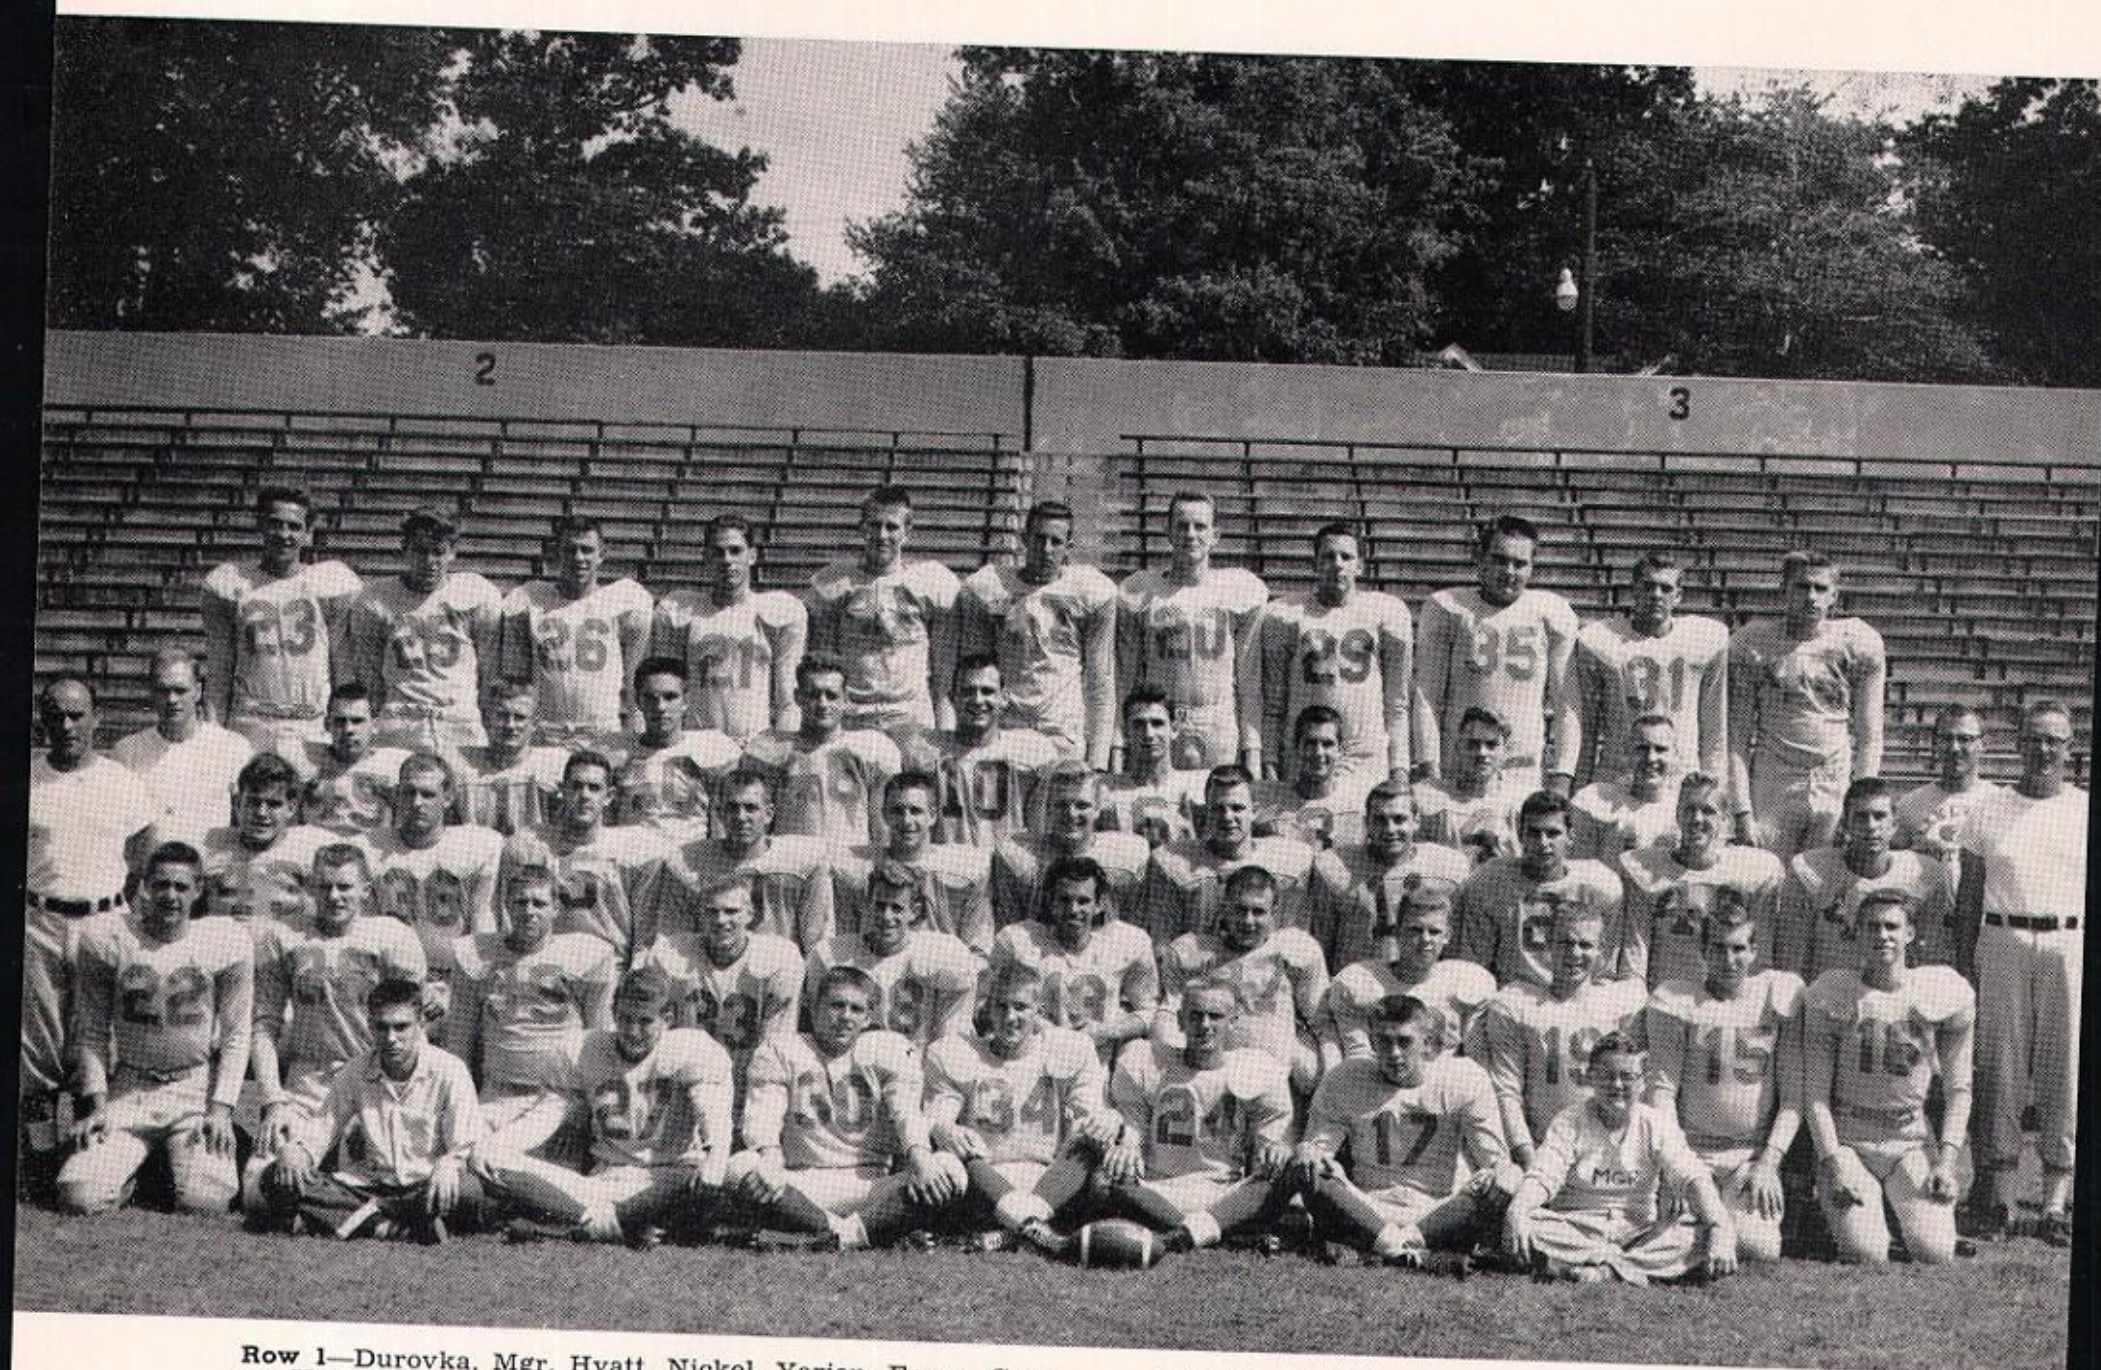

In the early days, the only form of recreation was also the daily task—building a good place to live. Today students share the thrill of participation in many sports. A legend of championship has grown through years of countless victories.

Trained to play a good game, win or lose, the Lakewood athlete learns that one of the greatest satisfactions is in contributing a part to the athletic teams.

Ranger Don Strang advances upon a Heights ball carrier

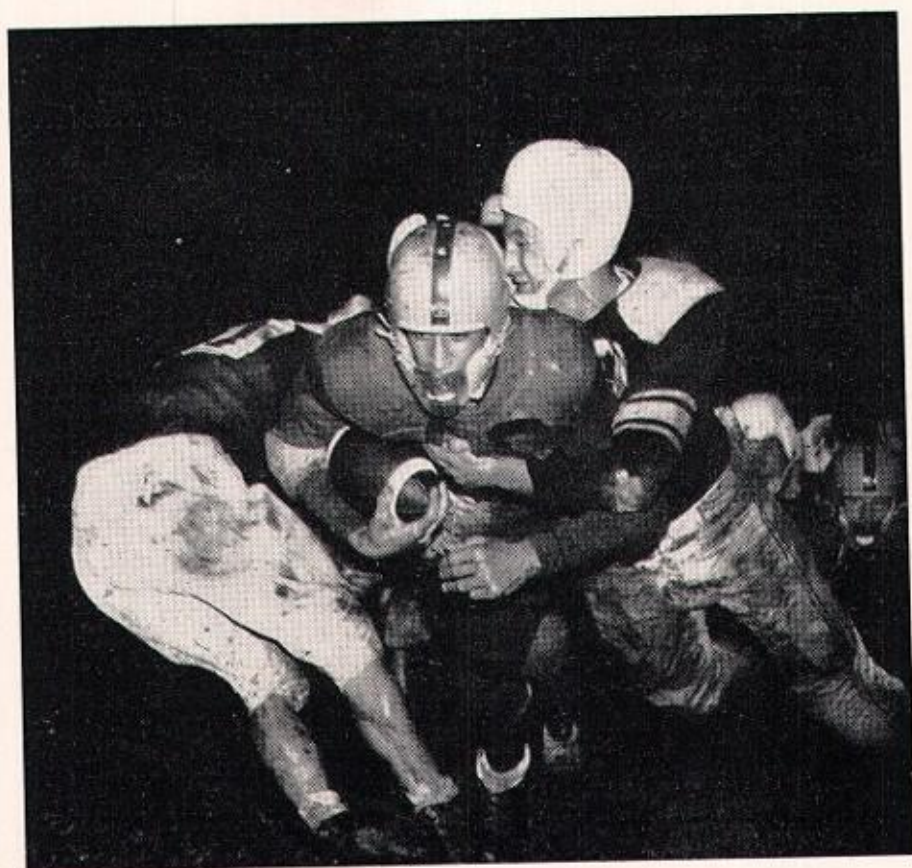

Speed and spirit well define the league-sweeping '55 Lakewood Ranger football team. A light fast backfield combined with a strong defense puzzled more than one team as Lakewood outscored their opposition 188-80. With wins over Shaker, Cleveland Heights, Euclid, Elyria, Parma, Lakewood racked up a 7-win, 2-loss record. Losing only to Mansfield 7-0, and Lorain 21-6, the Rangers completed another successful season.

Championship, Outscores Challenging Teams 188-80

Although the season is a team effort, individual honors should be recognized. The Ranger of the Year award was shared by Ron Fisher and Ron Vann. High scorer for the season, Seb Jacobs, also led in ground-gaining, advancing 683 yards in 79 carries. John Papp completed 26 passes out of 78 attempts, and Ends, Don Strang and Tony Casara, caught 10 and nine passes respectively. Paul Brown and Ron Vann were chosen All-Scholastic and All-Lake Erie League, Don Strang was chosen All-Lake Erie League, and Captain Bob Dutnell was picked All-Scholastic. Dunigan highlighted the season with a sight seldom seen on a football field. In the traditional West Tech game, Frank returned two kickoffs in a row for touchdowns.

Completing his sixth season as the Lakewood Rangers' head coach, Jim Scullion has brought four Lake Erie League crowns to Lakewood. Assisted by Line Coach Antel, Scullion has led his teams through 60 contests, winning 49 and tying one. He took over the position of head coach in 1950 and since then has coached two undefeated squads to the Lake Erie League championship.

Lakewood's Wins Over Elyria, Shaker, Shaw Squads

Coaches Carl Antel and Jim Scullion pose with the recently dedicated Lakewood-Shaker Exchange Bell

John Adams—The Rangers opened the year using a strong ground attack against Adams. In the 19-6 win, Buckeye led the squad with two TD's. Fisher scored the final one.

Lorain—Breaking an eleven-game winning streak, Lakewood lost to Lorain. Fumbling seven times, the Rangers were unable to stop Lorain as Lakewood was steamrolled 21-6.

Elyria—In the third game the team again used a ground attack to beat Elyria 13-0. Accounting for Ranger touchdowns was unsure ball-carrying of Elyria who fumbled twice.

Shaw—Touchdowns by Buckeye, Jacobs, Fisher, Barrett, Dunigan, Boyer added to a 40-0 romp over Shaw. In this first LEL game, the team easily defended its league title.

Shaker—Vann's recovery of a fumble set up a TD for John Pasalis in the 7-0 win over Shaker. Shaker, the favored squad, proved tough competition on the wet gridiron.

Euclid—The Ranger eleven passed the half-way mark still retaining their lead with a win over Euclid 32-0. Scoring for the Rangers were Jacobs, Buckeye, Pasalis, and Metz.

Cleveland Heights—Assuring at least a tie in the LEL race, the team beat Heights 33-22. A tough battle, the game's highlight was a 75-yard dash for a touchdown by Seb Jacobs.

Parma—In a close game, the Lakewood Rangers won possession of the LEL title by defeating the Redmen 13-12. The hero was full-back John Pasalis who booted the extra point.

Mansfield—Ranked fifth in most state ratings, Mansfield found Lakewood a tough squad to defeat. The Tygers squeezed out a narrow 7-0 triumph over the Scullionmen.

West Tech—Tech was run down by the team 25-13. Scoring TD's were Jacobs and Dunigan, each running two. Tech scored once in the first period, again in the final minutes.

Six Victories Attributed JV Team, Second in LEL

The Lakewood Junior Varsity football team completed their season compiling six wins, two ties, and one setback. In the mythical LEL title race, Lakewood finished second, one-half a game behind Cleveland Heights. The margin of champion was slim with Lakewood having one tie and one setback in LEL competition, while Heights had two ties. A light, fast Junior Varsity offense tallied 138 points while their defense held the challengers to 63 points. Coached by Don Harwood, the future Rangers held the Shaw, Euclid, Parma, and West Tech Junior Varsity squads scoreless and tied Shaker and Lorain. The season, a comparatively successful one, guarantees many interesting and thrilling games in the coming two seasons as the boys move on to fill the varsity positions.

Displaying Season's Record of 6 Wins-4 Defeats

Coach Ross's varsity basketball team finished a suspenseful season with a three-way tie for second place in the LEL race. Starting out against Elyria in an independent contest, the Rossmen proved victorious 59-43. They continued on by winning their first League game over Shaker Heights 60-58 on the Shaker floor. Lakewood next floored title-defending Euclid followed by a close win over West Tech 51-48. Ending a four-game winning streak, the Rangers dropped two in a row, the first to West High 65-52 and the second in the annual alumni game 65-60. A determined team came back to defeat Heights 79-58. A close loss to Parma 64-63 tied the Redmen with the Rangers for first in League play. The Rossmen then defeated Shaw, Shaker, and Euclid, advancing to sole leadership in the LEL play. The tide turned as they lost three out of their last four local contests to Cleveland Heights, the jinx-team Parma, and Shaw. These losses slid the Rangers from first to a three-way tie for second, shared with the Shaw and Cleveland Heights squads.

Lakewood Climbs to Finals of Class A Sectional

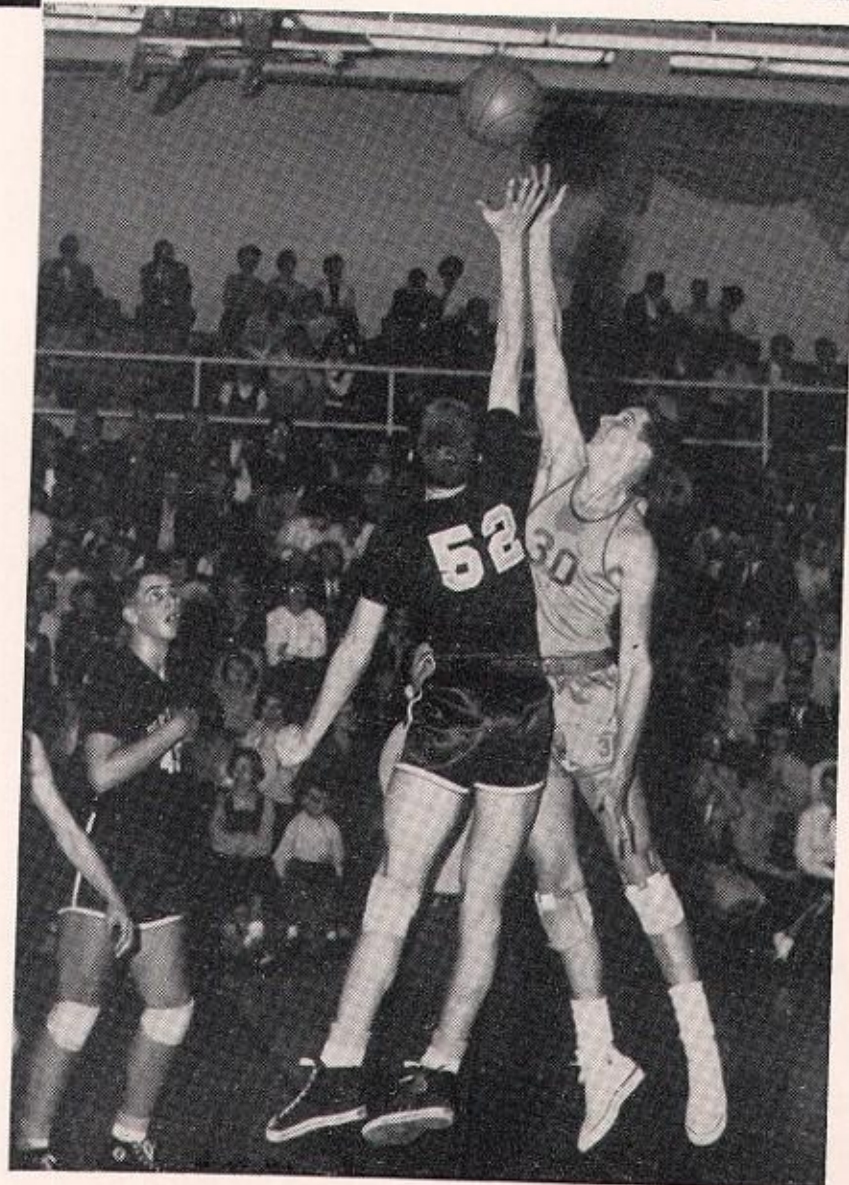

Ranger John Pasalis grabs a rebound during Parma game

By defeating the Rocky River Varsity squad the Rossmen advanced to the final round of the Lakewood Class A Sectional Tournament. In the finals, Lakewood fell at the hands of their traditional rivals, the West Tech Warriors, 47-45. In the close game with Tech, the Warriors sank 21 foul shots to Lakewood's 7. However, on the goals, Lakewood outscored the Tech squad with 19 baskets to their 13. Losing the Tech contest set the Rossmen's record for the season at 10 wins with 6 defeats.

One of the best junior varsity basketball teams ever to represent Lakewood was the '56 edition of Coach Harwood's squad. Starting out with its first game, a loss to Elyria's JV squad 60-57, the Harwoodmen never yielded a game for the remainder of the season. Wins over Shaker, Cleveland Heights, and Euclid stood as important factors in clinching the mythical LEL title. This year, Coach Harwood used juniors on the squad, a successful and effective plan. Bill Miller and Dave Hein, juniors on the squad, were high scorers on the team through its undefeated League season. The junior basketball team should provide a strong Varsity team in the two seasons yet to come.

Starting their season with an exciting victory over Shaker, the swimming team realized the value of team spirit. This spirit and conditioning prevailed as they edged Euclid by one point. Winning both the Euclid and the Kent relays added to the team's prestige. The mermen's wins over Shaw and Cleveland Heights were followed by their only loss of the season to Shaker. Overcoming their weak spots, they again defeated Euclid, Shaw, and Heights. A major win over the strong Sandusky team completed a highly successful season of dual meets. The mermen took two hard-felt losses, placing second in the LEL and district contests. The team climaxed the season with a third in the state finals, led by Captain Frank Vokoun, who smashed the individual medley record by four seconds with a time of 1m 35.6s.

Cross Country Team Wins Ninth Straight LEL Title

Harrier Dave Hagerson tries to overtake leader in the district meet

The most successful sport at Lakewood is Cross Country. This year's Harriers were Captain Don Redman, Jack Liffiton, Fran Szydlowski, Joe Marsh, Don Schumacher, Ed Fredericks, and Dave Watson. Under the careful observation of Coach Norman Brown, the team captured its ninth consecutive LEL title. The Harriers placed second in the district meet, only six points from first place Rhodes. In dual meets, Berea, John Marshall, and West Tech fell at the hands of Lakewood. The team climaxed its season coping ninth place at the State meet held in Columbus. Next year's only returning letterman from the first string is Don Schumacher.

Tie With West High Bright Spot in Grapplers' Year

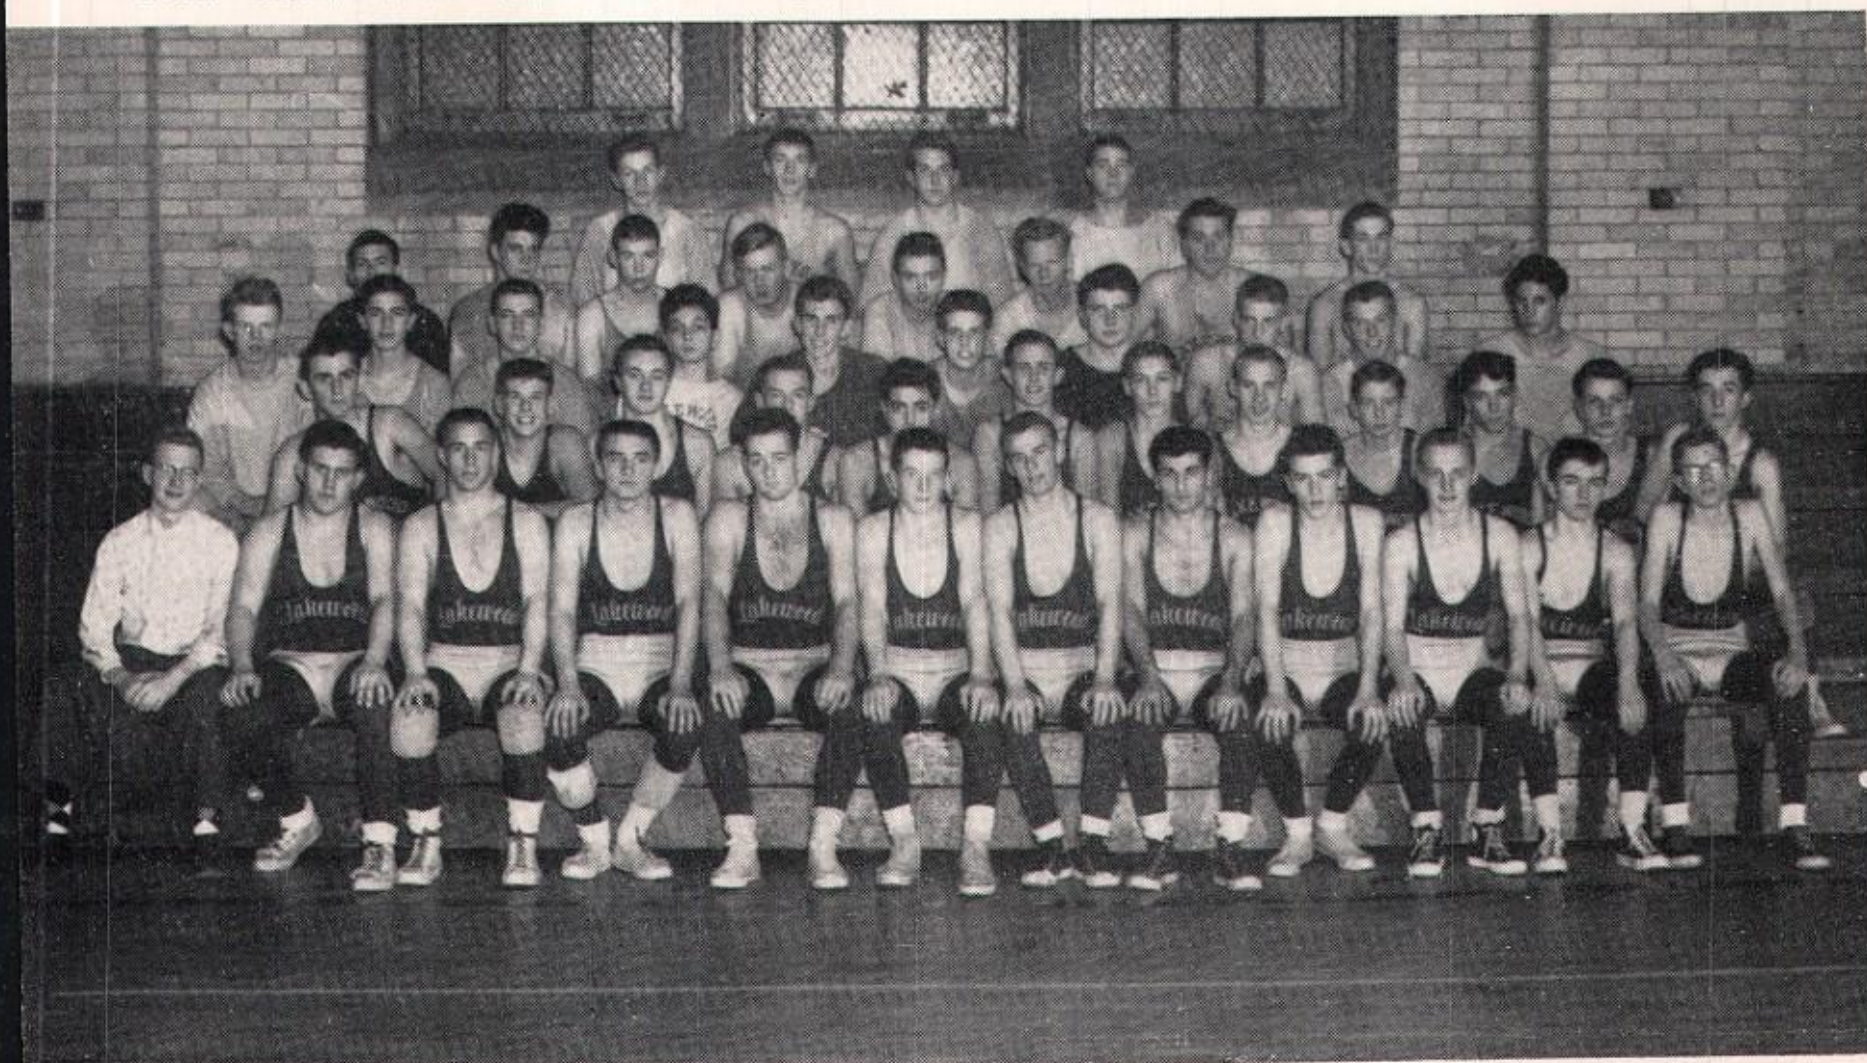

Although the wrestling team suffered a losing season, Coach Harger is confident of improvement for next year. With the help of Mr. Salzbrenner, Coach Harger's duties were lessened in coaching the grapplers. One tie with West High highlighted their record of 8 defeats in 9 dual meets. In the regionals of the state meet, Lakewood gathered 5 points against the strong Greater Cleveland teams. Dick Mitchell went the farthest in this meet, going to the semi-finals before being defeated. Lakewood failed to place anyone in the state meeting in Columbus.

For the first time since 1949, the Lakewood Ranger Varsity Baseball team won the LEL. Starting with a win over Heights, the team went on to beat West High, Shaker, and Shaw. The Rangers' winning streak was broken by Parma in a close game. Next, Euclid, Heights, Shaker, and Shaw fell to the Rangers, but the jinx team Parma stopped them again. The Rangers won their last three games against Heights, West Tech, Euclid.

A well-balanced junior varsity baseball team held a fairly successful season under the watchful eyes of Coach Rossi. Wins over John Marshall, Euclid, Olmsted Falls, North Royalton, and Parma accounted for the victories in the 6 win, 5 loss record of the '55 squad. Although weather conditions caused constant shifting of the schedule, the junior Rangers played a well rounded season in anticipation of their varsity days to come.

Indoor Track Takes Fourth Consecutive City Title

Tracksters Skillman, Dunigan, and Metz work out on the indoor track before a dual meet

Going into the City Indoor Meet as underdogs, the Lakewood Indoor track team upset Rhodes to capture their fourth straight city title. With a record of 3-2 in meets, the team held an uncertain dual season. Captain Frank Dunigan and Dave Mills set a record in the 40-yard dash, running it in 4.7 seconds. Returning this year was Lakewood's 880 relay team comprised of Dunigan, Reik, Metz, and Jacobs, which finished second in the state the year before. The J.V. team sparkled this year, going unbeaten against Berea, Maple Heights, and Rocky River J.V.'s.

Outdoor Track Squad Captures LEL, District Titles

With Trackster Ted Storer as captain, the Outdoor track team won its 23rd LEL title and a first in the district meet. The squad placed second in the state meet held in Columbus, only six points behind Cleveland East Tech. Keith Moore won the highest total-points award, and Ted Storer won the most-valuable-trackman award. Seb Jacobs won the award for sophomore with the most points through the season. Coach Carl Antel led the team to its best season since 1931.

Outstanding Athletes Constitute Roster of 'L' Club

A major letter in any varsity sport entitles a boy to be a member of Lakewood's honorary "L" Club. Meeting once a year for their picture, the boys bring prestige to their Alma Mater through their skill in a pool, on a football field, on a basketball floor, on a golf course—in fact, wherever their respective sports take place. Captain Bob Dutnell led his football team to an LEL championship and garnered an All-Scholastic rating. Phil Dubensky was high scorer for the season on the basketball team which secured a second in LEL competition. Frank Vokoun led his swimming team to a third in the state contest and the Cross Country team won an LEL title. Captain Dave Walton guided his tennis team to a third in LEL play and the Indoor track team won the City title in their division. In the spring season of '55, the golf team captained by Tom Archibald, held an 8 win, 11 loss season while the baseball team captured an LEL title. The Outdoor track team had a good season with LEL and District titles to their credit. With the spring sports yet to come, more titles and trophies are possible. Congratulations to the coaches and to the members of Lakewood's "L" Club.

Intramurals Offer Basketball, Bowling, Tennis, Golf

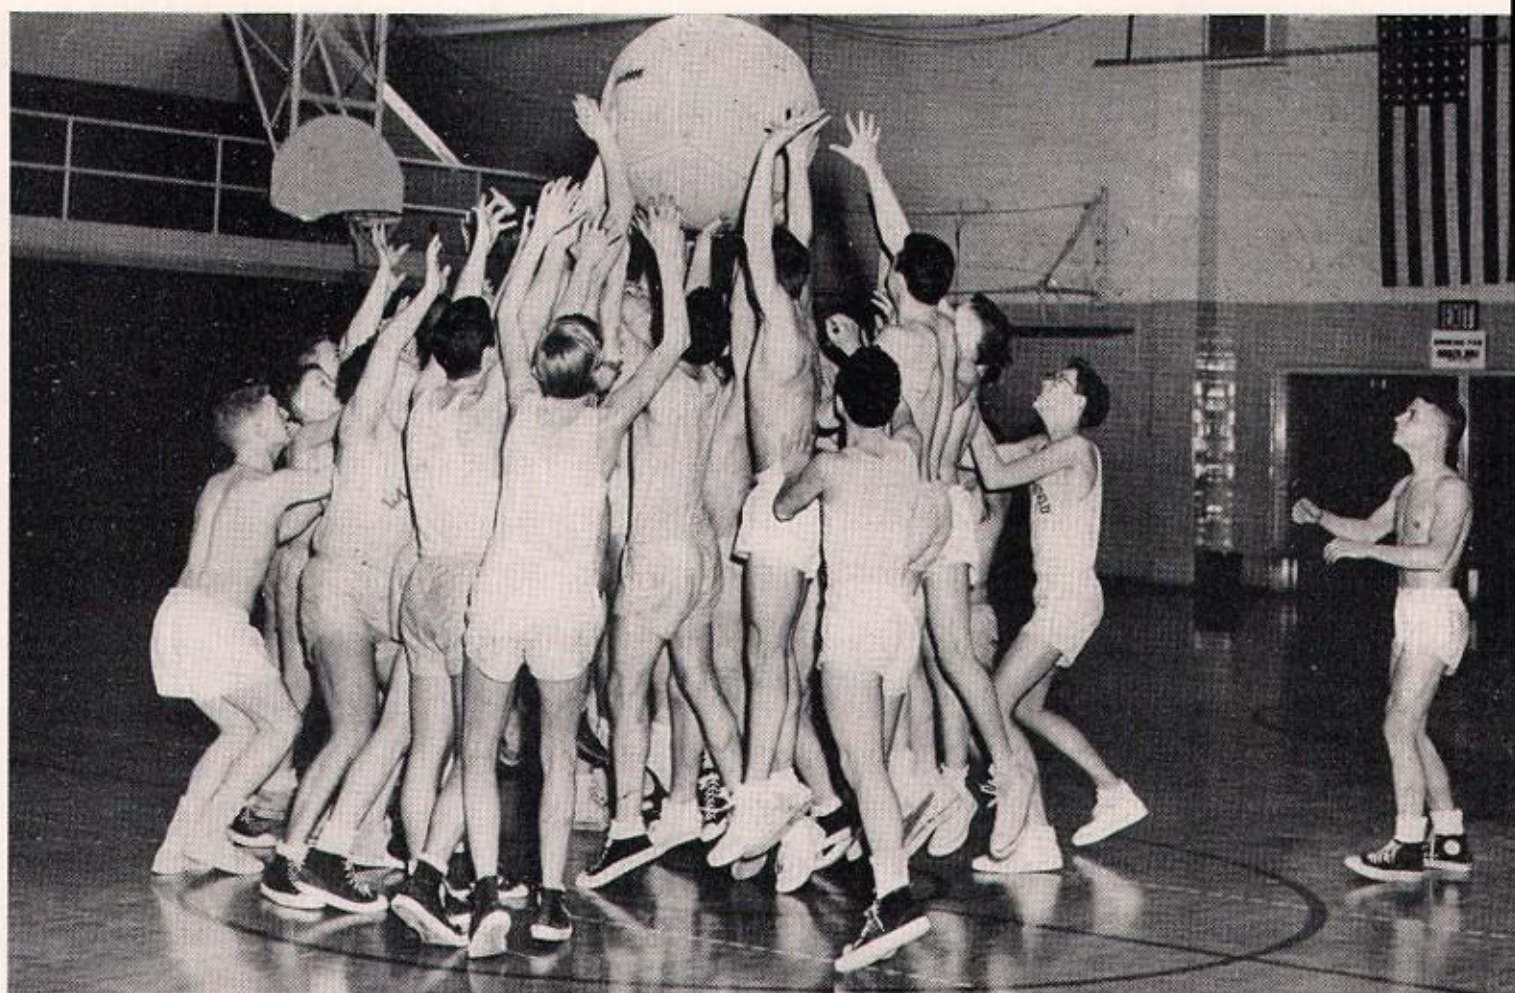

Bowling league participants invade Bowl-Mor Recreation for Wednesday night tourney

Lakewood's diversified intramural program shows the success of the physical education department in reaching its goal to provide every interested boy with a well-rounded athletic program. Things get started in the fall with a tennis tournament played on the school courts. During the winter, a home-room bowling league meets Wednesdays after school at Bowl-Mor Recreation. When the regular basketball season ends, home-rooms again have a chance to play in an early morning basketball tournament. Ping-pong and chess tournaments are also held. The program closes in the spring with the golf tournament held at the Metropolitan courses.

Wide Range of Gym Class Activities Endeavor to Fulfill

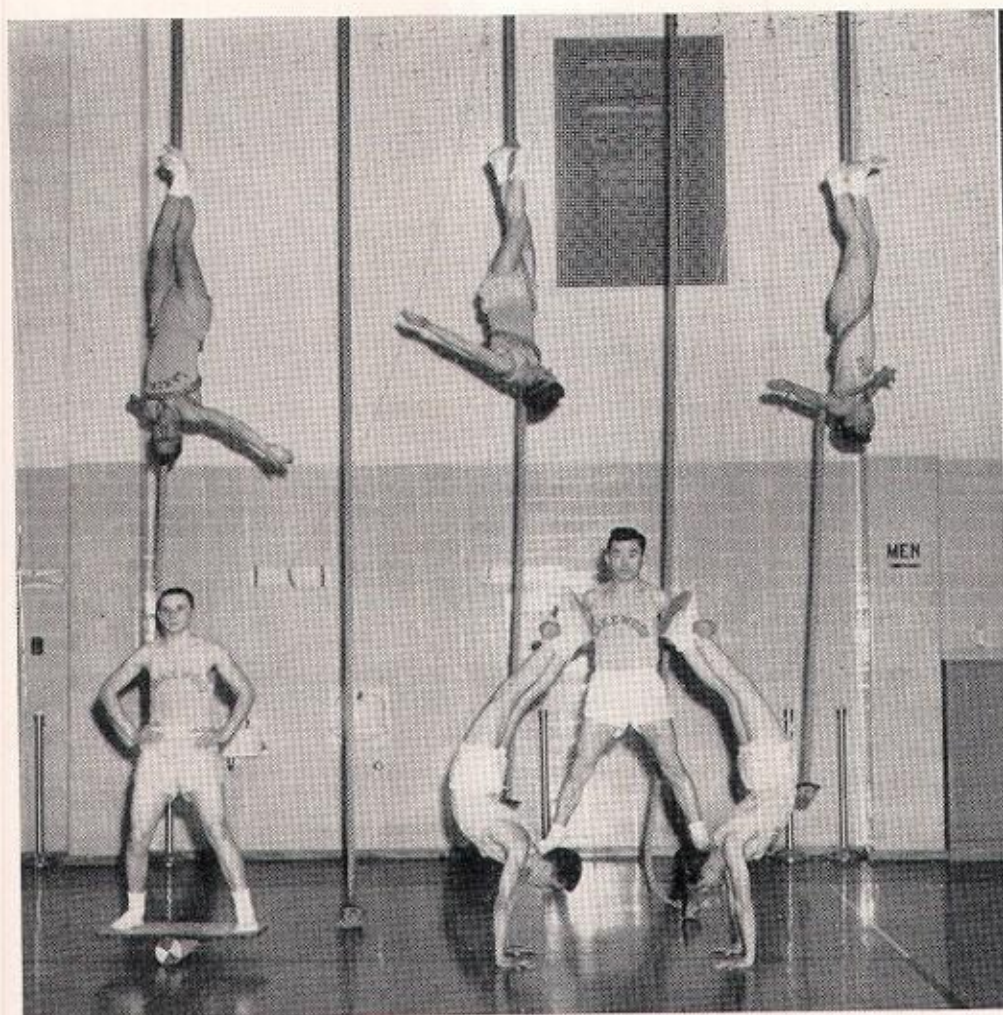

Cageball, a favorite gym class activity, provides plenty of fast action, exercise, and excitement

After learning swimming fundamentals from Coach Jim Scullion, boys help each other perfect strokes

Following up their aim to provide every boy with a well-rounded athletic program, the physical education department offers, in addition to the intramural program, seven regular gym classes and two specialized classes. Boys are required to take gym five days a week. They gain skills in track, volleyball, basketball, baseball, and soccer. During the fifth hour, Mr. Antel instructs a special class in the fundamentals of marching. Mr. Harwood's sixth hour tumbling class perfects various gymnastic routines for exhibitions between halves at basketball games. Six weeks of swimming each semester are required of every boy taking gym here.

Exercises such as push-ups, sit-ups, straddle-hops, and burpies soon become routine activities of gym classes

Promotion of Extensive Sports Program Brings State

Through individual tournaments and team sports the girls' physical education department provides a continuous program of recreation. Individual tournaments closely follow the seasons of the year. Archery, taught at few schools in Greater Cleveland, is the first individual sport at Lakewood. Shooting from three different distances, girls aim to exceed the 600 point mark. Tumbling, a winter sport, provides girls with the opportunity to develop skills on the trampoline, horse, and parallel bars. Golf is taught every spring in preparation for summer recreation. Basic golfing techniques in putting and driving are learned.

Recognition to Girls' Physical Education Department

Strenuous field hockey initiates girls' extensive intramural program and renews H. R. rivalries

The frequently praised girls' physical education department at Lakewood possesses one of the most outstanding intramural programs in the state. This impressive recognition is due to the great variety of sports offered and the large number of girls who participate. In 1954, 76 per cent of Lakewood girls took part in some phase of the extensive sports program. Field hockey, played at very few schools in this area, is an annual tournament at Lakewood High.

The thrill of a homeroom victory and the satisfaction of teamwork encourage many girls to participate in the extensive intramural program. Following the strenuous homeroom basketball tournament are an all-star tourney and the annual Yale-Harvard classic which consists of the school's best players. The Purple-Gold all-star game concludes the spirited volleyball tournament. Badminton, an individual sport, requires coordination and skillful wrist action.

Class instructions and demonstrations inspire many girls to take part in individual or homeroom tournaments. Every spring the last six weeks of school are devoted to tennis and softball drills. The softball tourney supplies an exciting climax to the lengthy sports program. With Lakewood's adequate facilities, tennis has become a popular fall sport. Being crowned school champ is the goal of all tennis enthusiasts. Ping pong players are rivals for grade honors.

Girls Portray Emotion Through Interpretive Dance

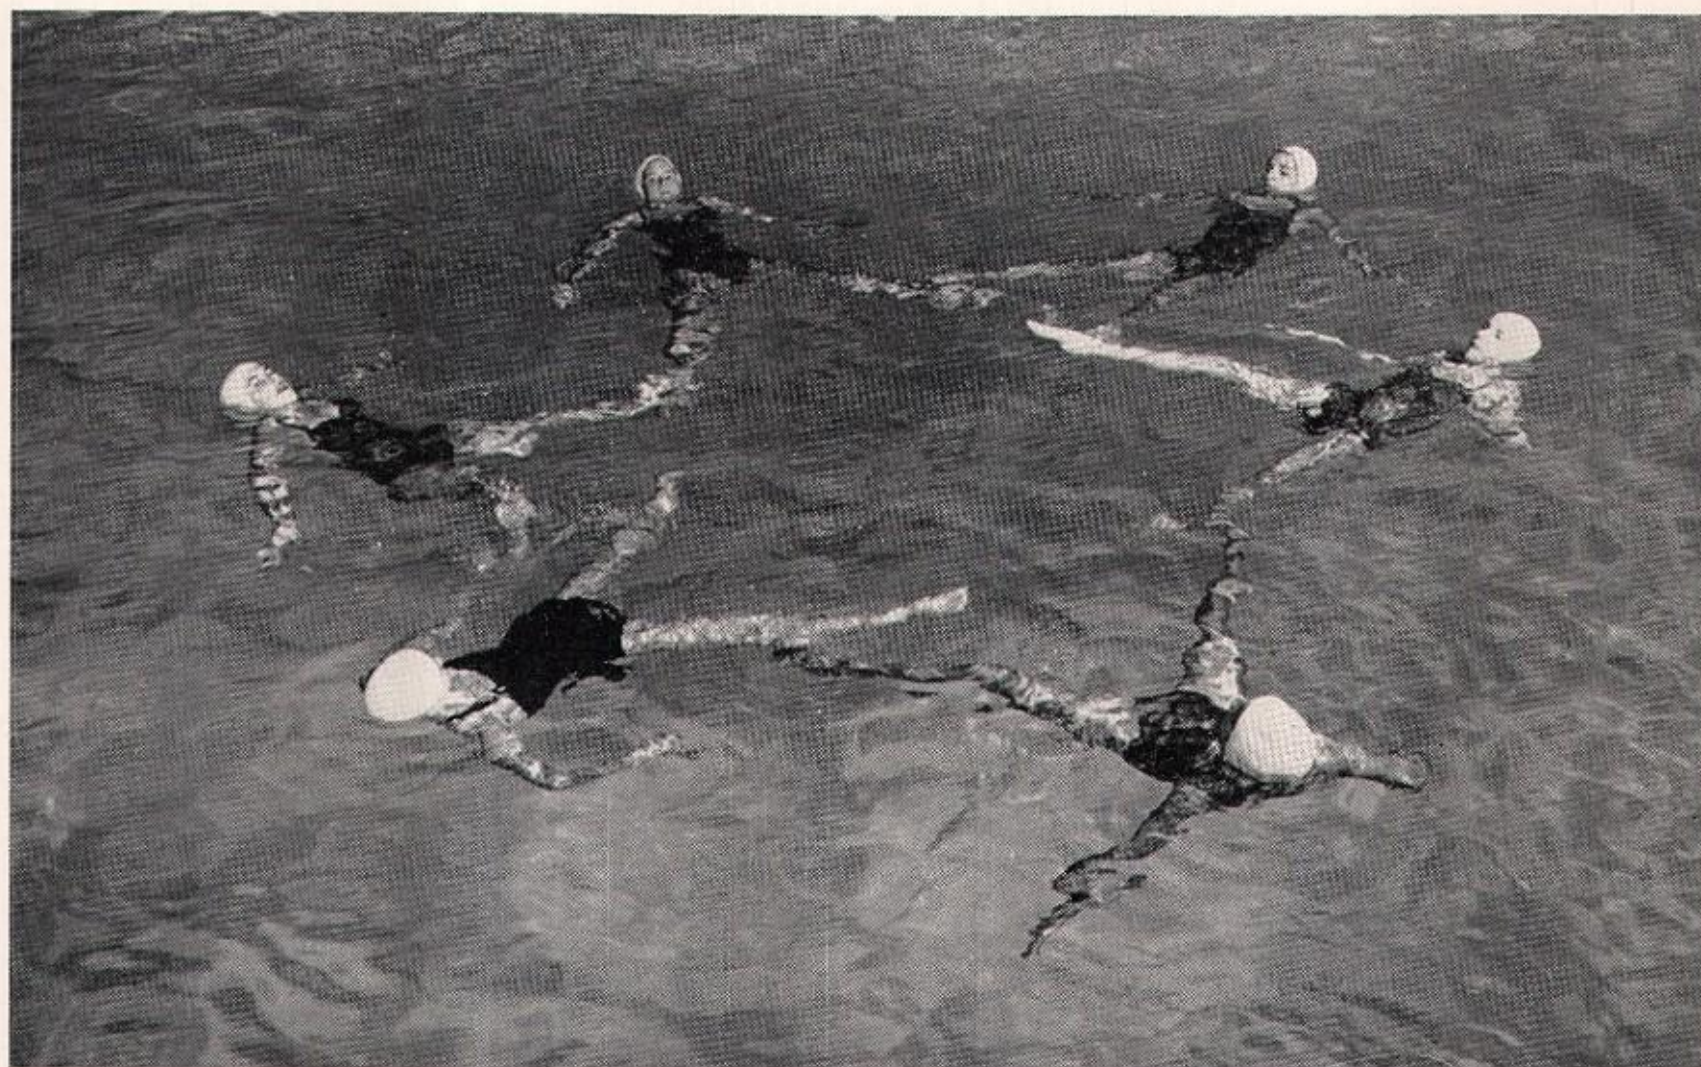

Graceful shoulder leads and side bends give expression to dance

Teaching dance techniques and movements to interested students is the main purpose of after school modern dance classes. From these classes, Mrs. Wilson chooses the major dance group. These selected girls review dance patterns, exercise muscles, and improve coordination in special gym classes for one grading period. The chief activity of this year's major dancers was presenting a show for a junior high school assembly.

Tankateers' Show Features Trip Around the World

Tankateers synchronize strokes and master intricate formations in preparation for their bi-annual water show

A trip around the world was the theme of the 1956 Tankateer show entitled, "Aquatic Continentals", under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Wilson. Over thirty girls took an active part in the show which included such features as "A Foggy Day in London Town", a "Sleighride" in Alaska, and the finale in which the entire cast swam in rhythm to the music of the Lakewood High Alma Mater. This show marked the first time in two years that the synchronized swim group has had the opportunity to perform for the public because of the recently adopted policy by which the Tankateers alternate their shows with those of the modern dance group.

Members are chosen by the previous board. Smooth-running tourneys, the continued strong participation in the after-school program, accurate recording of points are goals of the athletic board.

Three athletic awards stimulate participation in girls' sports. The Medal, top honor, requires 900 points for achievement while the L-Pin and Shield are attained with 600 and 300 points respectively. Lakewood's extra-curricular activities offer a wide selection of clubs and activities, giving rich opportunities for each student to increase his interests and form new hobbies. Thus has grown a legend of good fellowship. The Lakewood student has a chance to practice leadership, to reach a goal, or just meet others within social groups. Council Institutes Fund for L-Room Furnishings

Planning school party with Mr. Johnson are officers Greene, Munz, McCann, Yun, and Brown

The Student Council, perhaps the nucleus of school life, each year sponsors numerous activities. This year, with a treasury swelled by tax stamp profits and a record-breaking magazine drive, the organization began its annual projects. A most important new one was the initiation of a special fund to be used as need arises for furniture replacement in the L-Room. Although given the best of care, some of the furniture has begun to show wear after three years of constant use. Two other notable projects were the buying of banners to represent all six Lake Erie League schools at game festivals and appropriating money to buy new uniforms for the tumbling, wrestling, and baseball teams. The Laff Musicale and the semi-annual jazz concerts, not only brought fine entertainment to the student body, but also, made big contributions to the treasury.

A high point of the school year was the Student Council election in January. Officers elected for the spring semester were: Tom Archibald, president; Paul Brown, vice-president; Alicia Metcalf, executive secretary; Joan Sweo, recording secretary, and Dave Hagerson, treasurer. Ron Och es, Bill Mitchell, Nancy Ramsay, Chuck Mihal, Ron Fisher, Paul Brown, Kay Greene, John Pasalis, Sandy Horvath took over directorships.

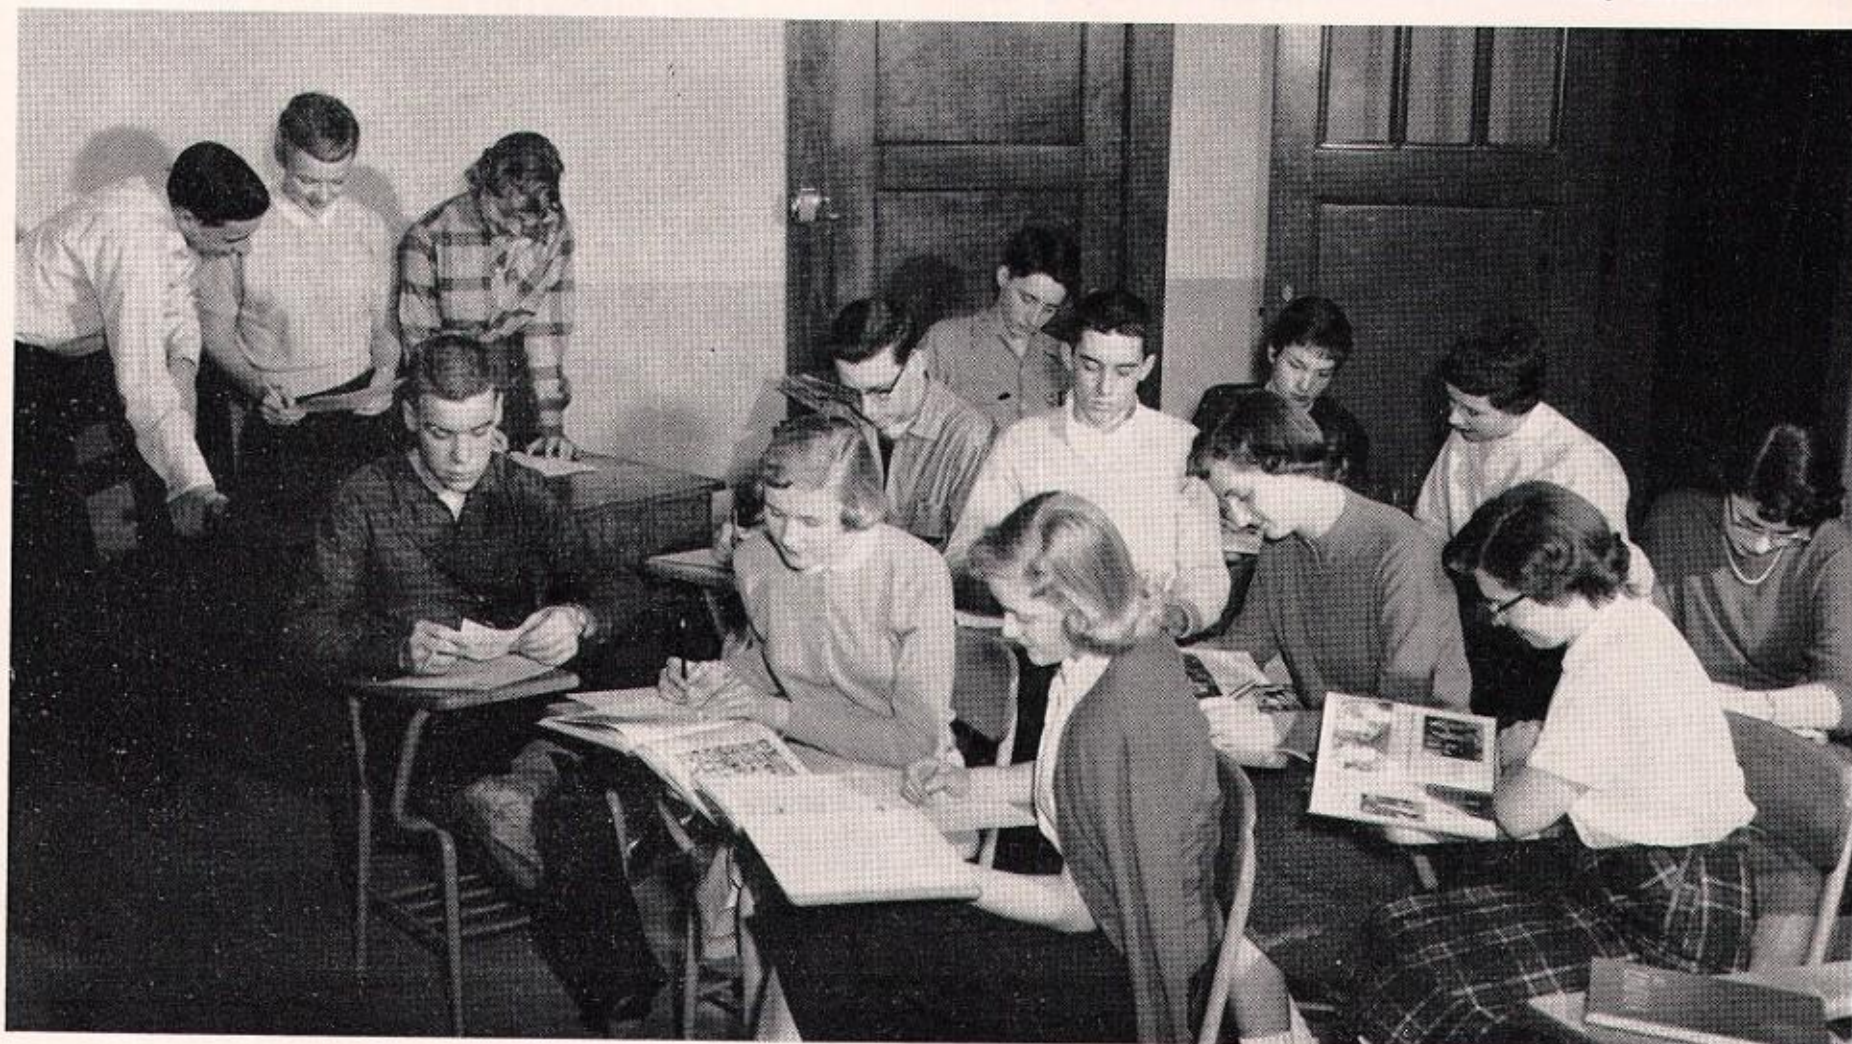

Lakewood Legend Has Deep Meaning for Cinema

In the early fall, the 1956 Cinema staff began seeking a theme to best represent the year. They probed deep into the history of the school and the community of Lakewood, comparing early life with the vast present expansion. From this, evolved the expression of the theme: "Out of the Wilderness Grew the Lakewood Legend." Each picture, story, and piece of artwork is carefully designed to portray the full meaning of the phrase. The thirty-five members of the staff hope the new-found knowledge of the history of the school and community will bring the student body and citizens a deep regard for Lakewood's heritage. During the year the staff found themselves absorbed in cropping hundreds of pictures, making layouts, arranging interviews, writing stories to hold the readers' interests, copyreading, proof reading, and finally, seeing the book go to press. With the year's business finished, their thoughts naturally turned to the evening before distribution day and the annual staff picnic to follow.

Organized for the first time this year, the editorial board of the 1956 Cinema became the major working unit of the staff. Under the guidance of Miss Gertrude McTaggart and headed by Dick Dexter, editor, and Ray Sharp, assistant editor, the board was composed of the section editors of the book: Ed MacEwen, art; Jim Middlekauff, photography; Gail Scott, classroom; Betty Finley, faculty; Joan Sweo, homeroom; Joe O'Connor, boys' sports; Gail Gregg, girls' sports; Dick Limoges, clubs; Diane Malloy, school life; Emily MacLaurin, index; George Herman, drafting; Sue Storer, who kept the photo record book.

Folding the TIMES marks final job of the managing staff before weekly distribution

Capturing the All-American rating in 1955 for the eleventh consecutive year, the High Times continues to uphold a proud Lakewood tradition. This award is the highest that can be conferred upon a newspaper by the National Scholastic Press Association. Fifty students, regular staff members and journalism students, work together to produce the weekly paper, which is distributed to students each Friday morning. Utilization of the special talents of staff members results in the photographs, cartoons, feature columns, sports coverage, and news stories which enliven each issue. To other members fall the responsibilities of editing, printing, and distributing the Times. In addition to other honors, the Times has several times received the coveted Medalist award during its 35 years of publication.

24 Years of Service; Is Succeeded by J. C. West

After twenty-five years of devoted service to the school as adviser to the High Times staff, Seymour A. Slater relinquished his position at mid-year. Mr. Slater, whose amazing capabilities for fostering a first-rate weekly paper have become somewhat of a legend at Lakewood, continues his work as an English teacher and as principal of night classes at the high school.

Mounting news-copy ends weekly routine for editorial board Louie, Alexander, Goddard, Teare, Vokoun, Krewson, Ricker

No stranger to the newspaper business, new adviser John C. West served as sponsor of the East Fairmont High paper in Fairmont, West Virginia for two years. His enthusiastic beginning foretells many more years of a superior High Times.

No longer responsible for the TIMES, Mr. Slater enjoys a new issue with successor, Mr. West

"Two's company" seems to be a rule at the Winter Whirl

Preparing a scrapbook entitled "The Lakewood Story" has provided a yearlong project for the five Friendship chapters. Intended for Hong Kong, this book's purpose is to promote world brotherhood and understanding. The pictures, articles, and cartoons make the similarities and differences between the two countries evident. Each of the Friendship chapters contributed a section that showed one phase of life in our community: school life, religion, Y activities, and Lakewood's government and business life.

Founded at Lakewood High in 1918, Friendship Club

Mary Brunk reads the opening thought to a Friendship main cabinet meeting. Members in attendance are chapter presidents, cabinet officers N. May, N. Morgan, R. Keisel, K. Greene, E. Munz, L. Carlson, C. Farr, G. Gregg, S. Jaite 43 years ago, Miss Laura Lynch founded a Bible study group for Lakewood High girls. Under the leadership of Miss Cassie Kelner, the club's first sponsor, the group grew, and by 1918, boasted a membership of 200. With the completion of the present high school building, the club became affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. and adopted the name "Friendship". With the addition of the Y-Teens, the club became distinguished solely as a high school organization, inspiring the founding of many other clubs in Cuyahoga County.

Annual potlucks mean fun and good eating

Stresses Service, Social Life, Worship, and Fellowship

Service, social life, worship, and fellowship are the goals of Friendship Club. "Introduction to Friendship", the title of a program presented early in the year, illustrated these ideals by means of skits. At the program the membership campaign started. Friendship's five chapters, at the completion of a week of membership drive, had a membership of 383. Installation occurred at the Parkwood Congregational Church. Service projects varying from Christmas baskets for the needy to a Valentine party for the Children's Aid Society show the desire to help others. Major activities included the Annual Hi-Y-Friendship Dance, discussions by fashion experts, and speeches on youth problems. The yearly Pa-Ma-Me Dinner in May honors the seniors in a special farewell.

Hi-Y Builds Better Character and Establishes Good

During an exciting football game, Hi-Y club members provide steaming cocoa to warm the cheering spectators

To create, maintain, and extend good moral character through Christian living is the theme Hi-Y follows throughout the year. From the Hi-Y-Friendship dance and the Father-Son banquet to selling cokes at football games, Hi-Y activities help develop its members physically, mentally, spiritually, and socially. Along with the regular chapter programs of speakers, movies, and dinner meetings, many special events are planned.

Devoting a major part of their time to community projects, boys have spent many a Saturday morning ringing doorbells to sell peanuts for the National Kid's Day campaign and raise money for a new Y.M.C.A. building. By selling refreshments at football and basketball games, Hi-Y members do a service for the school and at the same time help support their chapters. The Hi-Y-Friendship dance adds a social light to the busy schedule. The Youth-in-Government program held at Columbus each year provides a good opportunity for the clubs' chosen delegates to increase their knowledge and interest in local and state government. From the induction-dedication to the chapter worship services, the religious atmosphere, which is closely associated with Hi-Y, is created.

Fiesta Attractions Offered Spanish Club Members

With the largest membership of any club in the school, Spanish Club is celebrating its 38th year as an organization. Speaking Spanish during their meetings helps the members to acquire some of the atmosphere of a foreign culture. Club leaders Dick Steinberger, Helene Ray, and Susie Jaite work with the sponsor, Mr. H. R. Heskamp, to plan a program having both student participation and adult speakers for the monthly meetings. Early in the year Mr. Jay Melick presented his slides of Mexico to the club. As a special, Mexicans entertained the club members by singing a song in their native Spanish.

Field Trips, Parties Highlight Year for German Club

Schoenbrunn, the first permanent settlement west of the Alleghenies, delighted German Club members who toured the restored village this year. They also attended a program on postwar Germany, viewing slides and folk dances. Although the traditional pre-Lenten Fastnachtsabend was canceled when President Nancy May contracted German measles, the group celebrated Weihnachtsabend during the holiday season. To balance its many social functions, the club revealed its serious side by framing six pictures to decorate the "language corner" of the third floor and adopted a constitution.

Roman days are brought to life at Latin Club meetings. Members this year presented skits showing the adventures of ancient heroes. Movies and slides of the picturesque ruins of Athens and Pompeii were of special interest. Choosing projects of benefit to the whole school, Latin Club helped pay for a statue of Mercury and a wrought-iron bench to decorate the L-Room patio. They also participated in a party sponsored by Hi-Forum for foreign students in Greater Cleveland. At the last meeting on May 12, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, the sponsor, and members enjoyed a social evening in the L-Room.

"Try for Paris." Using a short wave radio, Forrester, Hunter, Wager, Woodlock contact French broadcasters

For this year's project, French Club used a short-wave radio to pick up broadcasts from French-speaking countries such as Canada. These were then recorded and played to the members. This playback gave them an opportunity to hear French spoken correctly and enabled them to gain practice in translating and comprehending the language. Also included in their program were skits, such as "The Three Bears", presented in French, and movies, like the one entitled "Au Restaurant". The annual Mardi Gras drew a large crowd as usual with sidewalk cafes, French-speaking waiters, and a floorshow in French.

Touring Canada for the third time in five years, the crack 100-piece band spent Easter vacation in Ontario giving goodwill concerts in Belleville, Oshawa, and other cities. Under the baton of the new instructor, Mr. Strang, they completed a colorful football season and moved to more serious work for their winter concert. Besides the regular schedule of performances, the band played at the YMCA Conference and at the Opening Day game for the Cleveland Indians.

Under new direction this year, the Orchestra expanded its concert schedule to include programs at all three junior highs. Mr. Richard Strang, the new conductor, took the group to Euclid High for the LEL Orchestra Festival. The fifty members also prepared for the winter and spring concerts given for the first time in the Civic Auditorium. Through this organization students have an outlet for their musical talent and a chance to contribute to civic affairs.

Barnstormers Premiere New 'Cyrano' Translation

"Cyrano de Bergerac" and "Mrs. McThing", Barnstormers' major productions, gave members valuable experience both in acting and in working on backstage crews. Club meetings featured speakers prominent in many fields. Trips to WNBK's TV studios and to Lakewood Little Theater to see "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial", "Dial M for Murder", and "Electra" proved educational as well as enjoyable. Climaxing the year was the Barney Awards dinner, at which four members were elected to receive "Barneys" for outstanding performance or backstage work.

Speakers Club Seeks New Outlets of Expression

Tape recording fosters betterment of tone quality, diction learns N. Welty as she practices reading aloud to group

Leaving debates and orations to old timers, members of Speakers and Writers Club enjoyed new fields of self-expression this year. Book, theater, and movie reviews provided entertainment at most meetings. At one meeting, two girls interpreted a popular song through modern dance. At another, boys from the cast of "Cyrano de Bergerac" gave a demonstration as they explained the history, techniques, and tools of fencing. Also, Mrs. Clyde Butler told of the experiences she had while gathering information for her historical book, The Lakewood Story.

LHS Projectionists Acquire Booth in Little Theater

An important service organization, Projectionist Club has members on duty every period of the day. Each member devotes part of his lunch hour or forfeits a study hall every day to show noon movies or classroom films in 126 or other rooms. The club is recently established in spacious new quarters in the Little Theater, where they meet to organize daily schedules and discuss problems of equipment. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Webb, the boys make sure that efficient and careful work is standard. Seniors receive a Minor "L" as a service reward for this.

Photography Club Records History of School Year

The Photography Staff, working closely with the Cinema and the Hi-Times, processes over a thousand pictures a year. Staff photographers are on call to take pictures for any occasion, from dances to football games. New members on the squad join in the fall of their tenth grade year and receive training from Mr. Rood, the staff adviser. After learning the ropes, they are given a project to complete, and, if their work is satisfactory, they are made full staff members. Departing from custom, this year the squad includes two girls, Gretchen Grove, Linda Swanda.

Senior photographer Dave Beach checks to be sure of the enlarger before he makes a print for use in the Cinema

To the twenty active members of stage staff, "show business" means more than acting before an audience. Theirs is the responsibility of constructing sets for different shows, like the Jazz Concert, the Laff Musicale, and other plays and assemblies. Building the set for "Cyrano" proved to be one of their most challenging tasks this year. In addition, the boys must insure efficiency backstage. Now that the Little Theater is completed, the problems and duties of curtain pulling, arranging the myriad lights, and operating sound effects will be almost double.

Before the hustle and bustle of a pep rally, P. A. boys make sure the microphone and other equipment work

Behind the lively "bong-bong" that proclaims the daily broadcast over the public address system goes the careful organization of the P. A. staff. Every period of the day, a member is on duty in room 114 in case an announcement must be made. In addition, the staff works behind the scenes at the football games to make sure everything functions smoothly for the announcers. Other duties of the staff are: operating the tape recorder, setting up equipment for pep rallies and assemblies, and assisting backstage during productions in the two auditoriums.

Theories Capture Interest of Math Club's Members

Einstein's theory of infinite numbers, complex equations, and number games are some of the many instructional topics presented at Math Club meetings. Members plan their own programs, choosing their subjects and doing extensive research in order to present factual material in an interesting manner. Diagrams and charts aid in difficult explanations. Aeronautics and astronomy, frequently subjects of meetings, hold special interest for members. Demonstrations of mathematical tools and their uses furnish much additional helpful information for the members.

Liquid Air, Vacuum Pump Interest Newton Society

Intriguing demonstrations of new and old developments in physics and chemistry provided the programs of Newton Club this year. During a meeting devoted to studying the effects of high vacuums, gauges were demonstrated which measure one-millionth of an atmosphere of pressure. Liquid air, the topic of another meeting, afforded a spectacular exhibition on the effects of extremely low temperatures. Demonstrating the problems of industrial chemistry, the members attempted to produce sulphuric acid by the lead-chamber process and make X-ray tubes.

Holding the club contest during the Christmas season enabled Hi-Art officers, Cameron Young, Barbi Groves, and Dave Prok, to add a new twist to the annual event. Entrants designed Christmas cards in wax with a water color overlay. Mr. J. D. Rossi and club sponsor, Mrs. Aline Henderson judged and awarded $5, $3, and $1 prizes to winners. A trip to the American Greeting Card Company, where members observed the making of cards, and a program of colored European slides shown by club member Weitske Bakker were other events on the club calendar.

Job Information Attracts Hi-Commercial Members

Learning to use the ediphone and files activates interest of club officers Kray, Wheller, O'Connor, and McMahon

"Flight Careers for Girls", the subject of a speech presented by a Capital Airlines hostess, is typical of the type of program of Hi-Commercial Club. At the monthly meetings, different phases of business are brought out in talks, movies, demonstrations, and informal club discussions. Special attention is given to the process of selecting a job that suits personality need and also the correct procedure in applying for a position. Mr. U'Ren, sponsor of the club, obtains instructive films such as "Improving Your Personality" to show to the club members.

Five candidates for Lakewood mayor presented their views on coming issues to open the first meeting of Hi-Forum club. Speakers at other meetings included Lawrence Levenberg, who showed a film on conditions in Israel, and Charles Goldstein, who spoke on German youth. Roundtable Confers on Human Relations Problems

The purpose of Roundtable is to promote understanding between different racial, religious, and national groups. Their work this year concentrated on church activities. Speakers from the Inner-City Protestant Parish and different denominations helped them with suggestions. Co-directors Emily MacLaurin and Dick Limoges worked with a Steering Committee of six students and Miss Stewart, the adviser, to plan the programs. Founded six years ago, the club is an outgrowth of the Youth Institute sponsored by the National Council of Christians and Jews.

Speakers from the Society of the Blind and the School for Mentally Retarded Children talked on the advantages in their respective fields for the Future Teachers of America. A Christmas project conducted by officers Joan Sweo, Marianne Hoyt, Diane Poleni, and Jola Earhart under the direction of Miss Abby Rush, visited the organizations for under-privileged children. The project included a picture scrapbook, flash cards, and crayon containers. Climaxing the F. T. A. year, senior members visited elementary schools to view the classroom procedures.

Auto Club Promotes Safety and Courtesy in Driving

Conducting an annual auto safety check, Auto Club constantly directs attention to the need for vigilance and care on the part of all automobile drivers. As an active member of the Youth Traffic Council, it also keeps up-to-date on the progress of similar organizations in schools throughout the nation. This year the club has continued its vigorous campaign against reckless teenage drivers. Its instructive programs have afforded members, all of whom are enrolled in driver-training classes, the knowledge of the many rules of the road and driving courtesies.

Worthwhile work plus fun at Agassiz meetings equals service to the school. Group and individual projects, such as the mounting of biological specimens in plastic, have been the main club business this year. Busy members, who meet twice a month, have also built an aquarium for housing sealife and a terrarium showing desert life. Other groups specialized in raising protozoa and bacteria. A battery-driven puzzle board, showing the parts of the heart, was another project.

Student Center Staff Combines Service With Fun

Officers Valley, L. Ingram, Wagner, Torgerson, R. Smith have fun planning year's duties at early morning breakfast

The student center staff is composed of over sixty students who volunteer their services throughout the year. Tending the snack bar, and keeping plenty of popular records on hand are but a few of the jobs carried out by the staff. Supervised by Mrs. Margaret Bachman, director, and Larry Ingram, student chairman, the staff keeps the L-Room in the fine condition of which Lakewood is so proud. A breakfast in the fall and a party in the spring are the big staff get-togethers.

The Lakewood Legend

of SOCIAL LIFE

Originally a school was the place for book-learning only.

Now it has become a youth's second home, full of enjoyments that make his life so complete. The new buildings at Lakewood—the L-Room, the new gymnasium, and the Civic Auditorium—have increased the possibilities of social activity here. The Laff-Musicale, the many all-school parties, and the games all brighten the social scene, an important part of the Lakewood Legend.

During the fall season, students eagerly await Friday, when classes are shortened to allow for a fifteen-minute pep rally at 3:15. The majorettes, accompanied by a small group of band members, start proceedings with a high-stepping march. After speeches made by Coach Scullion and members of the team, the Varsity and J.V. cheerleaders combine their talents to lead students in a rousing cheer. Special features included the "Dream Team" and a group of senior boys who acted as "cheerleaders for a day".

Friday night found most of the student body sitting in the cheering section witnessing the flag-raising ceremony and the band's half-time performances, while rooting the Rangers on to victory. Rain, prevalent throughout the season, failed to dampen the spirit that meant so much to the team. The dances after the games proved a fitting climax to the evening's excitement. Later, the crowd headed for a popular drive-in restaurant, and over the traditional malts and hamburgers, excitedly discussed the evening's events.

A specialty number by the band attracts the attention of students attending one of the dances after the game

Bob Dutnell, Sue Miller Reign as Football Royalty

Sue Miller and Bob Dutnell experience the thrill of a lifetime reigning as football king and queen of the traditional Thanksgiving Dance. Coach and Mrs. Scullion officiate in the coronation ceremonies during intermission

During a lull in the evening's festivities, Gail Ruth and Paul Brown stop to greet Marianne Peters and John Papp

The applause sounded vigorously from the crowd seated in the gym, as Bob Dutnell and Sue Miller were introduced as the football king and queen of the annual semi-formal Thanksgiving dance. Prior to the coronation, all of the varsity players and their dates were introduced and took part in the grand promenade. The sleigh in the center of the dance floor and the L-Room decorations were planned by the Sweetheart Committee, which is composed of the dates of the varsity players. Throughout the evening the band played the ten most popular songs chosen in a poll of the entire student body.

A highlight in the calendar of social events of the year takes place during the traditional Homecoming festivities. Tension builds for a week, and then is climaxed with the crowning of the queen. Rain, which was prevalent throughout the season, made the usual half-time crowning on the field impossible. The ceremony, which took place in the gym where lovely Ramon Keisel was announced queen, was witnessed by many alumni. Ramon's court consisted of Gail Staten, Sandy Egeland, Sue Baumann, Sue Miller.

in Citizenship

Events sponsored by the Student Council play a large role in the social functions at Lakewood. The "Icebreaker" dance and "Black Magic", which featured a haunted hall, were two of the many all-school parties. The formal Christmas Ball, held at the Mid-Day Club, the Thanksgiving Dance, honoring the football team, also were held by the council. To make the scene complete, two jazz concerts and the Laff Musicale were given by the students.

Long awaited Senior Prom climaxes not only a week of gaiety, but also high school activities for Lakewood seniors

After a Happy Social Whirl, Graduation Transforms

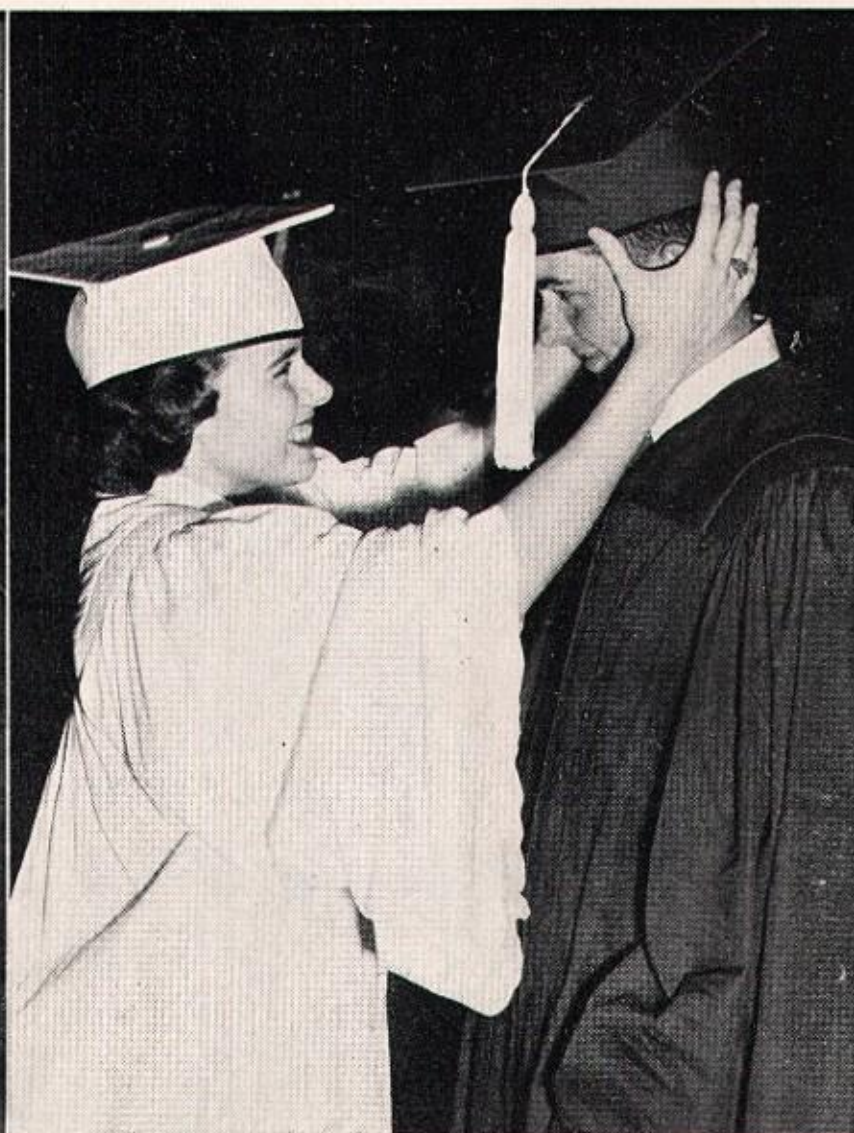

Baccalaureate services provide a serious note during the gay senior week

Senior Week, a week of festivity, ends the three-year career of a Lakewood High School student. This week, which includes Baccalaureate, Class Night, and the Senior Prom, culminated on Thursday evening, June 9, with graduation exercises for the class of 1955. This class was distinguished as being the first to hold Commencement in the new Lakewood Civic Auditorium. Thus, another class became alumni, leaving behind a record of honors and achievements which added another chapter to the Lakewood Legend.

The Lakewood Legend

of BUSINESS

In Lakewood's early years the small general store was considered to be the only establishment necessary to supply the people of the community.

As Lakewood grew, so grew the varied needs of its citizens. This spurred the development of a group of fine local business establishments. Through the years they have given their whole-hearted support to Lakewood High and the many school-sponsored activities.

HIGH QUALITY DAIRY PRODUCTS ...and Dependable Service

To get better dairy products, start with something better. The thousands of gallons of milk that are shipped daily into the clean, modern Dairymens Ohio Farmers plant come from practically the same carefully selected dairy farms every day of the year.

What better insurance could there be for dairy products that are always so uniformly good?

Early Settler

By day, by night, vigilant guard he keeps.
 Mounted in honor,
 Held in respect,
 He stands as a symbol of industry, of courage.
 Pioneering was his business—
 Pioneering with new crops, new ideas, in a new country.
 Now his job is watching—watching, listening, learning.
 Learning the lives, loves, problems, joys
 Of the people who pass through portals beneath him.
 Inspiring events take place within the walls he guards.
 Yes, the Early Settler has a soul.
 He is a part of Lakewood, of its citizens—
 Of everything this city by the lake has grown to be.
